Government Requests Revival
Of Charges Against LattimoreBeaming Fathers
Compare Notes
And Get Surprise

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 24 (AP)—Two beaming fathers proudly watched through the hospital window as their newly born daughters were put on display yesterday.

Strangers, they exchanged casual words. Then, comparing notes more closely, they learned:

Each was named Willard Smith; wives of both gave birth recently to daughters, each of whom was named Christine; the same doctor delivered both youngsters. And for both Smiths the new arrivals increase their families to four girls and one boy, each.

Ike Asks Careful
Study Of Trade
Policy Criticism

DENVER, Aug. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower called today for careful study of an administration adviser's report sharply criticizing U. S. foreign trade policy as a barrier to international economic stability and a possible threat to free world unity.

Lewis W. Douglas, former ambassador to Great Britain, urged the President to announce promptly that the United States is determined to work toward "a progressive, vigorous and consistent relaxation of our restrictive foreign trade legislation."

Report Handed To Commission

Eisenhower made the report public and turned it over to the new government commission on U. S. foreign economic policy for study.

Douglas told the President that for 30 years this country has set up import barriers which have operated against "re-establishment of international economic and financial health and equilibrium."

He said the U. S. long ago became the world's greatest creditor and can "no longer pursue the protectionist policies of a debtor nation and hope to escape... discrimination against American products in the international markets."

The Douglas report analyzed currency and trade relations between the U. S. and Britain, and the causes for "unbalance" between sterling and the dollar.

"Real Contribution"

In turning over the report to the new study commission, Eisenhower wrote the chairman, Chicago steel executive Clarence E. Randall, that the document represents "a real contribution to thinking in the field of dollar-sterling relationships."

"I commend the report to the earnest attention of you and your associates as you undertake to canvass the whole broad field of foreign economic policy," Eisenhower told Randall.

U. S. Appeals Court
Asked To Reinstate
Four Perjury Counts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The government, which has said it will carry the issue to the supreme court if necessary, today asked the U. S. Court of Appeals to reinstate four perjury charges against Owen Lattimore. The charges were thrown out by a lower court.

Today's appeal was from a ruling last May by U. S. District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl. In quashing four counts of an indictment which accused Lattimore of lying to the Senate internal security subcommittee about alleged Communist sympathies, the judge said they violated Lattimore's constitutional rights.

Youngdahl let three lesser perjury charges stand but said even these may not "pass the test of materiality so as to present a jury issue." He ordered Lattimore to trial Oct. 6 on these counts.

"Spurious Issues" Created

The government, in asking the appeals court to overrule Youngdahl, said he "misconstrued the counts so as to create the new and spurious issues of free speech, conformity of ideas, imposition of orthodox views, et cetera."

Lattimore, a one-time occasional State Department consultant on Far Eastern affairs, was indicted last December as an aftermath of 12 stormy days of testimony before the Senate subcommittee nearly a year earlier. The subcommittee was trying to determine if the Institute of Pacific Affairs, a private research organization, had been infiltrated by Communists and what if any influence the group had on U. S. Far East policy.

Lattimore has denied all charges against him, including what he called the "pure moonshine" statement by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that he was the top Soviet espionage agent in this country.

On Leave From Hopkins

He is now on leave of absence from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, where he has been director of the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations.

The principal count which the government wants reinstated accuses Lattimore of testifying falsely that he had never been a sympathizer or promoter of communism or Communist interests.

Another rejected count charges Lattimore with swearing falsely about arrangements for his visit to Chinese Communist headquarters in Yenan in 1937. The other two involve alleged knowledge that certain writers for the magazine Pacific Affairs, which Lattimore edited, were Communists.

Southern Bell, CIO
Agree On Contract

ATLANTA, Aug. 24 (AP)—Southern Bell and the CIO Communications Workers of America today agreed to terms of a new contract which gives 50,000 Southern Bell telephone workers wage increases ranging from $1 to $13 a week.

The union said new wage rates became effective Sunday. In addition to the change in the basic wage structure, many employees will get pay boosts resulting from job and city reclassification.

Give-Away To Resume

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (AP)—Another million parcels of American food are ready for distribution to the hungry people of Red-ruled East Germany in the second phase of the giant give-away which begins Thursday, it was announced tonight.

The United States said the give-away resumed Thursday, it was announced tonight.

It's No Secret; U. S. Stores
Its Silver At West Point

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—about it, and comedians have found Ft. Knox jokes almost sure fire. Fred Allen, for example, once suggested this as a quiz show prize to end all quiz show prizes: "Fifteen minutes alone with a shovel at Ft. Knox."

Even so, Howard said there still are misconceptions about the highly advertised gold hoard. Most people think Uncle Sam takes all his gold and buries it in Kentucky.

"Actually," Howard said, "we have only around half our gold at Ft. Knox. I'd say we have only around 12½ billion there."

The rest is scattered in assay offices from coast to coast.

West Point and Ft. Knox have one thing in common. They're for the precious metals for which the government has no immediate use. Or, as Howard puts it, "They're our cold storage."

Ex-Iran Premier
Reported Jailed
To Await Trial

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 24 (AP)—Ousted and ailing ex-Premier Mohammad Mossadegh, long regarded as one of Iran's richest men, was reported to have been transferred today from the plush Officers Club here to a jail cell.

Mossadegh was kicked out last week at the climax of a political upheaval which first sent the Shah into a brief exile and then brought him back after the nationalist Premier's downfall.

The report of Mossadegh's imprisonment under more stringent conditions came as dispatches from Washington said the Shah's urgent appeal for emergency funds for his country was receiving sympathetic study by the United States.

New Oil Talks Seen

(In London, official sources said the United States, acting as a friendly middleman, also might move soon to clear the way for new talks aimed at settling the 2-year British-Iranian oil row. The informants said Loy Henderson, U. S. ambassador to Tehran, had arranged to confer with Iran's new Premier, Maj. Gen. Fazlollah Zahedi, in a day or two to discuss the new regime's foreign policies. Henderson likely will sound Zahedi on restoring diplomatic relations between Tehran and London and negotiating a settlement of the oil dispute. The row started in 1951 when Mossadegh's government nationalized Iranian properties of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.)

Mossadegh To Stand Trial

Since Mossadegh surrendered Thursday to Zahedi, the aging ex-Premier, long one of Iran's biggest landowners, has been detained in one of the four well-equipped rooms on the top floor of the Officers Club. The building is one of the largest and most luxurious in Tehran.

Mossadegh, who cut quite a figure with his pink pajamas and tearful speeches during the more than two years he dominated Iranian politics, must stand a series of trials. Zahedi told newsmen yesterday the ousted Premier will be tried before both houses of Parliament, Senate and Majlis, for misdeeds committed up to the time the Shah decreed him replaced by Zahedi Aug. 15. Then Iran's Supreme Court will try him for acts of violence committed in his name from that date until his arrest, the new Premier said.

Italian Premier
Gets Green Light

ROME, Aug. 24 (AP)—Premier Giuseppe Pella has now won a vote of confidence from both houses of the Italian Parliament, thereby temporarily ending Italy's lengthy political crisis.

The Chamber of Deputies—lower house—voted confidence today 315-215. Forty-four deputies abstained.

The Senate backed the new government last Saturday 140-86.

A confidence vote from both chambers is automatically required when a new Cabinet takes office. It is taken as a measure of opinion on the Cabinet as a whole rather than on a specific issue.

Reds Say 400 POWs
Don't Want To Leave

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Peiping radio said today about 400 United Nations war prisoners say they do not want to leave Communist land.

The broadcast, heard by The Associated Press in San Francisco, said that the Communists notified the U. N. Command Aug. 20 that the Allied prisoners did not want to go home although the Reds had tried to persuade them to do so. There was no breakdown of nationalities.

Was He Surprised!

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Harry David, 60, got quite a surprise when he sat down in a restaurant today. His pants burst into flame.

It developed that a cigarette lighter in his pocket ignited as he sat down. He was treated for leg burns.

Reds Release
Nine American
Army Officers

136 Yanks Freed;
Communists Still
Hold Prize Captives

PANMUNJOM, Tuesday, Aug. 25 (AP)—One hundred thirty-six Americans came out of Communist Korea today as the massive exchange of war prisoners under the Korean armistice entered the last 10 days.

The Americans, grouped among 400 Allied prisoners liberated, appeared healthy, but they generally were quiet. One carried a pet black and white bird. It looked like a magpie.

Also freed were 250 South Koreans, 8 Canadians, 3 Australians, 2 Dutchmen and 1 Greek.

Nine infantry and field artillery officers were among the Americans returns to freedom. But there still was no sign of high ranking Allied officers, who apparently are being held back by the Reds until the last.

Overcast skies and a scattering of rain marked this 21st day of the exchange in which nearly 2,000 of 3,313 Americans have been returned.

Exchange Ends Sept. 3

The exchange under truce terms will be terminated Sept. 3 unless the weather or some other unexpected circumstance should extend the period.

Both sides evidently are holding back their top prisoners, but here the Reds have the edge for they have a U. S. major general while the highest Communist prisoner known to be in U. N. hands is a North Korean colonel.

The U. S. State Department has said it expects the Communists to return every Allied prisoner held under terms of the truce agreement. But the Reds have said they have the right under the Geneva Convention to hold those they have sentenced to jail for what they term "crimes."

Returning U. S. prisoners have told of the Communists jailing Allied prisoners, with sentences as high as three years on trumped-up charges such as "instigating against peace."

Reds Still Hold Gen. Dean

Some of the first returning prisoners said they heard that many of the men jailed by the Reds are Allied officers.

Prize prisoners in Red hands are Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, former commander of the U. S. 24th Division, captured in August, 1950, after the fall of Taejeon; Lt. Col. E. F. Carne, commander of the British Gloucester Battalion which made a famous last stand against Capt. Harold E. Fischer, U. S. Air Force ace, who had shot down 10 enemy MIG jets before he himself was shot down and captured last April 7.

Westinghouse Union
Accepts New Contract

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—A new contract covering 50,000 employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. was accepted today by the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

The agreement provides wage boosts of 3 to 11 cents an hour as well as improved pension and other benefits.

A union spokesman said the agreement had been ratified by the electrical workers' Conference Board and that the general membership would not have to vote on the contract under union bylaws.

The contract is retroactive to July 1 and effective until next July 1 concerning wage and to July 1, 1956 on pension.

Repatriated Prisoner Wants More Army

Sgt. Albert Howard, Nashville's first repatriated Korean War prisoner, reenlisted yesterday. Mrs. Howard gives her husband a good luck kiss as Col. Lester Lampert administers the oath. Sgt. Howard said he had six days of civilian life since release by the Reds last May "and that was enough."

West Will Reject
Soviet Proposal
On German Issue

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Diplomatic informants said today the Big Three Western Powers are approaching agreement on a new proposal to Russia for talks on Germany's political future.

The informants said the Western Allies will reject Moscow's latest proposal calling for German reunification under a provisional government prior to all-German elections. The West contends that puts the cart before the horse and insists that free elections under international supervision must precede reunification.

Identical Notes Drafted

The diplomatic sources said that U. S., British, and French officials working in Paris are drafting identical notes which will call for a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in Europe within the next two months to prepare for free German elections. The foreign ministers would fix conditions for establishing an all-German government free to make any sort of foreign alliances it pleases, the informants said.

Once the Western experts have completed the draft notes, they would be submitted to government heads in London, Washington, and Paris.

Three Soviet Pronouncements

Three Western action appeared shaping up to deal with three Soviet pronouncements this month on the German question. The first two Russian statements were in the form of notes sent to the Big Three Aug. 5 and Aug. 16 agreeing to meet with the West on the German problem but putting the emphasis on certain points to which the West objects, particularly the Russian wish to subordinate German elections to reunification.

The third Russian pronouncement on Germany was incorporated in a joint communique on a Soviet-East German pact released early Sunday. This communique substantially restated Moscow's views as set forth in the notes.

New Idea In TB Treatment
Cuts Bed Rest Hours Short

DENVER, Aug. 24 (AP)—A new idea in TB treatment designed to send the patient safely back to full time work, "a whole man instead of only half a man," was outlined tonight by two tuberculosis experts.

It would call for far fewer months of lying in bed. But it would double the average time spent in a TB hospital.

Patients would get out of bed sooner, and get steady treatment with new "wonder drugs" while they slowly increased their activities and strength. They would learn new skills or polish up old job skills to return to an 8-hour day.

This method, tested on a small scale, looks promising and merits more study, said Dr. Sidney H. Dressler, medical director, and Dr. Gardner Middlebrook, director of research and laboratories at the National Jewish Hospital here.

They reported it to trustees of the hospital which gives free medical care to TB patients of all faiths.

"The time has come to alter our concept of tuberculosis treatment materially, to stop merely helping people to live with the disease, and to center an all-out attack on the germ causing the malady," they said.

New drugs, including isoniazid or Inh, make this approach possible.

The drugs have to be taken for 9 months to 16 or 18 months, to bring the disease under control, more study, said Dr. Sidney H.

Water Leak Found
When 'Damp Spot'
Stalls Motorist

TAUNTON, Mass., Aug. 24 (AP)—Being a careful driver, Eugene Lecuyer slowed down when he approached a damp spot in the street.

Which turned out to be a good idea.

For after labor crews hauled Gene's car out of 4 feet of mud, he was hailed as the man who discovered the leak in Taunton's 30-inch water main.

Six pumps and a fire truck pumped all day on the "damp spot."

By afternoon they were still at it—trying to get the mud hole empty enough to see whether it would be necessary to shut off the water supply of this city of 40,000 to repair the leak.

Murray's Widow
Hurt In Car Crash

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP)—A auto swerved off the highway, plunged over an embankment and burned 3½ miles west of Washington today, seriously injuring the widow and sister of the late CIO President Philip Murray. A third woman also was hurt.

Mrs. Elizabeth Murray, 58, widow of the CIO leader, suffered a wide laceration of the forehead, fracture of both arms and of the right ankle.

Mrs. Mary Thompson, 68, of Canonsburg, Pa., a sister of Murray, sustained a broken hip, head injuries and shock. She was administered the last rites of the Catholic Church at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh.

The third occupant, Mrs. Marie Block, 53, of Pittsburgh, sustained lacerations of the face and internal injuries. She and Mrs. Murray were admitted to Washington Hospital.

State police said the women were riding in a rented car. The driver was not immediately identified. Police said the driver apparently lost control attempting to pass another car.

Arab League Pledges
Support To Morocco

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Arab League today pledged its "full support" to the Moroccan people in their "fight for freedom and independence" from France.

Ahmed Shukairy, league assistant secretary general, lashed out at what he called France's "policy of steel and fire" in Morocco, after the overthrow and exile of Sidi Ben Youssef, former Sultan of the French North African protectorate, and the installation of Mouley Mohammed Ben Arafa.

Shukairy told newsmen that the league "shall not deflect from its duty toward Moroccans with whom it has brotherly ties."

HST Says Force
Vital For Peace

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 24 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman today told the Disabled American Veterans they know why a "containment policy was necessary" to keep the Russians from running over the whole world.

Greeted by a 30-second standing ovation from the 1,000 delegates at the 32nd national convention, the former President told the veterans they knew that force was necessary to beat totalitarianism today just as it was in the days of Hitler and Mussolini.

After World War II, Truman said, the United Nations offered hope toward a peaceful settlement of world problems without war. However, he commented, Russia blocked 256 conferences on atomic power despite offers by the United States for "international control" of our secrets.

Since the end of that war, he said, the United States has been trying to defend the entire free world, and those making the greatest contribution for that free world were American soldiers.

Looking out over an audience thick with wheel chairs, canes and even the seeing eye dogs of the blind, Truman said: "You don't want a third world war and neither do I."

Hints At Walkout
If India Is Seated
On Side Of Allies

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP)—South Korea served notice today it will refuse to sit on the same side with India in the Korean peace conference.

Foreign Minister Y. T. Pyun of South Korea accused India of "appeasing" and "trafficking" with the Communist aggressors. He told the U. N. Assembly's Political Committee it would be "next to impossible" for his country to take part in the conference with India on the U. N. side.

After the committee adjourned, Col. Ben C. Limb, South Korea's permanent observer at the U. N., and a former foreign minister, told reporters that Pyun meant to say it would be "impossible" to sit with India on the U. N. side. He said he was making the change to clarify the text.

Unusually Bitter Language

Pyun used unusually bitter language to tell the committee that South Korea President Syngman Rhee did not want India on his side at the conference. Some delegates have said that Rhee threatened to boycott the conference if India is invited, but Pyun and Limb made it clear they would not object to India attending on the Communist side if India desired to do so.

Pyun said after the meeting that South Korea has no right to keep India out of the peace conference but that the Rhee government has a right to refuse to attend the conference. He said South Korea may walk out of the conference if the U. N. Assembly sends India to the meeting as a part of the U. N. side.

Pyun's blast at India came shortly after Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, appealed in a public statement for India to withdraw from the heated contest.

India Not Withdrawing

V. K. Krishna Menon, India delegate, told a reporter that India was not withdrawing. During the day Menon talked three times with Russian delegates but refused to discuss the conferences, one of which was with Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Pyun told the delegates that the participation of India in the peace conference would presage the continuance of appeasement "so long as India remains what it has been."

"Mr. Chairman, the Republic of Korea is desirous to take part in the political conference with a sincere hope of reaching a fair and just solution for the Korean problem, which would be impossible with a peace settlement continued," Pyun said. "Therefore, sir, this delegation would like to make it clear that the Republic of Korea finds it next to impossible to collaborate with India on the same side."

"If India openly stood on the Communist side, it would be different. We should then be sorry to lose India so definitely like that. But we should prefer it to having a betraying and scheming India on our side."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Nearly everyone knows the United States stores its gold at Ft. Knox, Ky. But not many people know that we taxpayers have a similar depository for our silver.

But we have. The silver is stashed away at West Point. Yet this is so little known it became a jackpot question on a television quiz show, and today your correspondent checked with Leland Howard, assistant director of the mint, to see why everything was so secretive.

"It's no secret," Howard protested. "We've had a depository at West Point for a long time—I'd say since 1938 or 1939."

Howard doesn't know why no one has seemed to give a hoot about the silver storehouse. Whereas Congress likes to argue about Ft. Knox, foreign dignitaries have made polite but envious remarks

New Oil Talks Seen

(In London, official sources said the United States, acting as a friendly middleman, also might move soon to clear the way for new talks aimed at settling the 2-year British-Iranian oil row. The informants said Loy Henderson, U. S. ambassador to Tehran, had arranged to confer with Iran's new Premier, Maj. Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, in a day or two to discuss the new regime's foreign policies. Henderson likely will sound Zahedi out on restoring diplomatic relations between Tehran and London and negotiating a settlement of the oil dispute. The row started in 1951 when Mossadegh's government nationalized Iranian properties of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.)

Mossadegh To Stand Trial

Since Mossadegh surrendered Thursday to Zahedi, the aging ex-Premier, long one of Iran's biggest landowners, has been detained in one of the four well-equipped rooms on the top floor of the Officers Club. The building is one of the largest and most luxurious in Tehran.

Mossadegh, who cut quite a figure with his pink pajamas and tearful speeches during the more than two years he dominated Iranian politics, must stand a series of trials. Zahedi told newsmen yesterday the ousted Premier will be tried before both houses of Parliament, Senate and Majlis, for misdeeds committed up to the time the Shah decreed him replaced by Zahedi Aug. 15. Then Iran's Supreme Court will try him for acts of violence committed in his name from that date until his arrest, the new Premier said.

Reds Release Nine American Army Officers

136 Yanks Freed; Communists Still Hold Prize Captives

PANMUNJOM, Tuesday, Aug. 25 (AP)—One hundred thirty-six Americans came out of Communist Korea today as the massive exchange of war prisoners under the Korean armistice entered the last 10 days.

The Americans, grouped among 400 Allied prisoners liberated, appeared healthy, but they generally were quiet. One carried a pet black and white bird. It looked like a magpie.

Also freed were 250 South Koreans, 8 Canadians, 3 Australians, 2 Dutchmen and 1 Greek.

Nine infantry and field artillery officers were among the Americans returns to freedom. But there still was no sign of high ranking Allied officers, who apparently are being held back by the Reds until the last.

Overcast skies and a scattering of rain marked this 21st day of the exchange in which nearly 2,000 of 3,313 Americans have been returned.

Exchange Ends Sept. 3

The exchange under truce terms will be terminated Sept. 3 unless the weather or some other unexpected circumstance should extend the period.

Both sides evidently are holding back their top prisoners, but here the Reds have the edge for they have a U. S. major general while the highest Communist prisoner known to be in U. N. hands is a North Korean colonel.

The U. S. State Department has said it expects the Communists to return every Allied prisoner held under terms of the truce agreement. But the Reds have said they have the right under the Geneva Convention to hold those they have sentenced to jail for what they term "crimes."

Returning U. S. prisoners have told of the Communists jailing Allied prisoners, with sentences as high as three years on trumped-up charges such as "instigating against peace."

Reds Still Hold Gen. Dean

Some of the first returning prisoners said they heard that many of the men jailed by the Reds are Allied officers.

Prize prisoners in Red hands are Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, former commander of the U. S. 24th Division, captured in August, 1950, after the fall of Taejon; Lt. Col. E. F. Carne, commander of the British Gloucester Battalion which made a famous last stand against Capt. Harold E. Fischer, U. S. Air Force ace, who had shot down 10 enemy MIG jets before he himself was shot down and captured last April 7.

Italian Premier Gets Green Light

ROME, Aug. 24 (AP)—Premier Giuseppe Pella has won a vote of confidence from both houses of the Italian Parliament, thereby temporarily ending Italy's lengthy political crisis.

The Chamber of Deputies—lower house—voted confidence today 315-215. Forty-four deputies abstained.

The Senate backed the new government last Saturday 140-86.

A confidence vote from both chambers is automatically required when a new Cabinet takes office. It is taken as a measure of opinion on the Cabinet as a whole rather than on a specific issue.

Reds Say 400 POWs Don't Want To Leave

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Peiping radio said today about 400 United Nations war prisoners say they do not want to leave Communist land.

The broadcast, heard by The Associated Press in San Francisco, said that the Communists notified the U. N. Command Aug. 20 that the Allied prisoners did not want to go home although the Reds had tried to persuade them to do so. There was no breakdown of nationalities.

Was He Surprised!

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Harry David, 60, got quite a surprise when he sat down in a restaurant today. His pants burst into flame. It developed that a cigarette lighter in his pocket ignited as he sat down. He was treated for leg burns.

Repatriated Prisoner Wants More Army
Sgt. Albert Howard, Nashville's first repatriated Korean War prisoner, reintroduced yesterday. Mrs. Howard gives her husband a good luck kiss as Col. Lester Lampert administers the oath. Sgt. Howard said he had six days of civilian life since release by the Reds last May "and that was enough."

West Will Reject Soviet Proposal On German Issue

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Diplomatic informants said today the Big Three Western Powers are approaching agreement on a new proposal to Russia for talks on Germany's political future.

The informants said the Western Allies will reject Moscow's latest proposal calling for German reunification under a provisional government prior to all-German elections. The West contends that puts the cart before the horse and insists that free elections under international supervision must precede reunification.

Identical Notes Drafted

The diplomatic sources said that U. S., British, and French officials working in Paris are drafting identical notes which will call for a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in Europe within the next two months to prepare for free German elections. The foreign ministers would fix conditions for establishing an all-German government free to make any sort of foreign alliances it pleases, the informants said.

Once the Western experts have completed the draft notes, they would be submitted to government heads in London, Washington, and Paris.

Three Soviet Pronouncements

Thus Western action appeared shaping up to deal with three Soviet pronouncements this month on the German question. The first two Russian statements were in the form of notes sent to the Big Three Aug. 5 and Aug. 16 agreeing to meet with the West on the German problem but putting the emphasis on certain points to which the West objects, particularly the Russian wish to subordinate German elections to reunification.

The third Russian pronouncement on Germany was incorporated in a joint communique on a Soviet-East German pact released early Sunday. This communique substantially restated Moscow's views as set forth in the notes.

Westinghouse Union Accepts New Contract

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—A new contract covering 50,000 employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. was accepted today by the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

The agreement provides wage boosts of 3 to 11 cents an hour as well as improved pension and other benefits.

A union spokesman said the agreement had been ratified by the electrical workers' Conference Board and that the general membership would not have to vote on the contract under union bylaws. The contract is retroactive to July 1 and effective until next July 1 concerning wage and to July 1, 1956 on pension.

A Texan struck oil and built a mansion and three swimming pools. One pool he keeps filled with cool water and another with warm water; the third he keeps empty. He explains: "A lot of my friends can't swim."

Water Leak Found When 'Damp Spot' Stalls Motorist

TAUNTON, Mass., Aug. 24 (AP)—Being a careful driver, Eugene Lecuyer slowed down when he approached a damp spot in the street.

Which turned out to be a good idea.

For after labor crews hauled Gene's car out of 4 feet of mud, he was hailed as the man who discovered the leak in Taunton's 30-inch water main.

Six pumps and a fire truck pumped all day on the "damp spot."

By afternoon they were still at it—trying to get the mud hole empty enough to see whether it would be necessary to shut off the water supply of this city of 40,000 to repair the leak.

Murray's Widow Hurt In Car Crash

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP)—A auto swerved off the highway, plunged over an embankment and burned 3½ miles west of Washington today, seriously injuring the widow and sister of the late CIO President Philip Murray. A third woman also was hurt.

Mrs. Elizabeth Murray, 58, widow of the CIO leader, suffered a wide laceration of the forehead, fracture of both arms and of the right ankle.

Mrs. Mary Thompson, 68, of Canonsburg, Pa., a sister of Murray, sustained a broken hip, head injuries and shock. She was administered the last rites of the Catholic Church at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh.

The third occupant, Mrs. Marie Block, 53, of Pittsburgh, sustained lacerations of the face and internal injuries. She and Mrs. Murray were admitted to Washington Hospital.

State police said the women were riding in a rented car. The driver was not immediately identified. Police said the driver apparently lost control attempting to pass another car.

Superfort Crashes

TOKYO, Tuesday, Aug. 25 (AP)—A U. S. Superfort crashed in flames west of Tokyo last night and the newspaper Yomiuri said 9 of 13 men aboard parachuted to safety.

New Idea In TB Treatment Cuts Bed Rest Hours Short

DENVER, Aug. 24 (AP)—A new idea in TB treatment designed to send the patient safely back to full time work, "a whole man instead of only half a man," was outlined tonight by two tuberculosis experts.

It would call for far fewer months of lying in bed. But it would double the average time spent in a TB hospital.

Patients would get out of bed sooner, and get steady treatment with new "wonder drugs" while they slowly increased their activities and strength. They would learn new skills or polish up old job skills to return to an 8-hour day.

This method, tested on a small scale, looks promising and merits more study, said Dr. Sidney H.

Hitler's Ex-Aide Is Barred From German Election

DUESSELDORF, Germany, Aug. 24 (AP)—Hitler's former propagandist, Dr. Werner Naumann, was barred today from West Germany's parliamentary election as a "Nazi offender," and a move was started to outlaw his Nazi-like German Reich party.

Moderate political parties hailed the measures taken to squelch the threat of a Nazi comeback in the Sept. 6 elections.

Cannot Run Or Vote

A decree by Interior Minister Franz Meyers of the state of North Rhine-Westphalia removed Naumann's bitterly controversial candidacy by declaring him a "Nazi offender"—the second worst type under the Allies' postwar denazification code.

This classification automatically bars Naumann from running for public office, voting, or even holding any professional job.

Faces British Charge

The decree was based on Naumann's record as state secretary in Josef Goebbels' propaganda Ministry. Hitler's will named him Goebbels' successor. Naumann, 43, still faces a British accusation that he recently led a Nazi plot against the West German government.

Simultaneously with Naumann's ouster, Interior Minister Richard Borowski of the state of Lower Saxony said he was proposing a suit to have West Germany's Constitutional Court outlaw the entire German Reich party as an enemy of constitutional government.

Arab League Pledges Support To Morocco

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Arab League today pledged its "full support" to the Moroccan people in their "fight for freedom and independence" from France.

Ahmed Shukairy, league assistant secretary general, lashed out at what he called France's "policy of steel and fire" in Morocco, after the overthrow and exile of Sidi Ben Youssef, former Sultan of the French North African protectorate, and the installation of Mohammed Ben Araf.

Shukairy told newsmen that the league "shall not deflect from its duty toward Moroccans with whom it has brotherly ties."

Asian Nation Red Appeaser, Pyun Charges

Hints At Walkout If India Is Seated On Side Of Allies

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP)—South Korea served notice today it will refuse to sit on the same side with India in the Korean peace conference.

Foreign Minister Y. T. Pyun of South Korea accused India of "appeasing" and "trafficking" with the Communist aggressors. He told the U. N. Assembly's Political Committee it would be "next to impossible" for his country to take part in the conference with India on the U. N. side.

After the committee adjourned, Col. Ben C. Limb, South Korea's permanent observer at the U. N. and a former foreign minister, told reporters that Pyun meant to say it would be "impossible" to sit with India on the U. N. side. He said he was making the change to clarify the text.

Unusually Bitter Language

Pyun used unusually bitter language to tell the committee that South Korean President Syngman Rhee did not want India on his side at the conference. Some delegates have said that Rhee threatened to boycott the conference if India is invited, but Pyun and Limb made it clear they would not object to India attending on the Communist side if India desired to do so.

Pyun said after the meeting that South Korea has no right to keep India out of the peace conference but that the Rhee government has a right to refuse to attend the conference. He said South Korea may walk out of the conference if the U. N. Assembly sends India to the meeting as a part of the U. N. side.

Pyun's blast at India came shortly after Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, appealed in a public statement for India to withdraw from the heated contest.

India Not Withdrawing

V. K. Krishna Menon, India delegate, told a reporter that India was not withdrawing. During the day Menon talked three times with Russian delegates but refused to discuss the conferences, one of which was with Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Pyun told the delegates that the participation of India in the peace conference would presage the continuance of appeasement "so long as India remains what it has been."

"Mr. Chairman, the Republic of Korea is desirous to take part in the political conference with a sincere hope of reaching a fair and just solution for the Korean problem, which would be impossible with a peace agreement continued," Pyun said. "Therefore, sir, this delegation would like to make it clear that the Republic of Korea finds it next to impossible to collaborate with India on the same side."

"If India openly stood on the Communist side, it would be different. We should then be sorry to lose India so definitely like that. But we should prefer it to having a betraying and scheming India on our side."

HST Says Force Vital For Peace

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 24 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman today told the Disabled American Veterans they know why a "containment policy was necessary" to keep the Russians from running over the whole world.

Greeted by a 30-second standing ovation from the 1,000 delegates at the 32nd national convention, the former President told the veterans they knew that force was necessary to beat totalitarianism today just as it was in the days of Hitler and Mussolini.

After World War II, Truman said, the United Nations offered hope toward a peaceful settlement of world problems without war. However, he commented, Russia blocked 256 conferences on atomic power despite offers by the United States for "international control" of our secrets.

Since the end of that war, he said, the United States has been trying to defend the entire free world, and those making the greatest contribution for that free world were American soldiers.

Looking out over an audience thick with wheel chairs, canes and even the seeing eye dogs of the blind, Truman said: "You don't want a third world war and neither do I."

"Progressives" Issue Debated By Ex-POWs

Attitudes Range From Charity To Condemnation

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—The matter of "progressives" in North Korean prison camps was tensely debated today as more than 50 former POWs arrived in New York by air from the West Coast.

Some of the men were on leaves of absence, their pockets lined with months of accumulated back pay. They started immediately for homes some of them had not seen for more than three years.

Others were en route to nearby Army camps for discharge. Their attitudes toward "progressives"—POWs who had co-operated with or failed to defy their captors—ranged from charity to harsh condemnation.

A soldier who acknowledged that he had been called a "pro" contended the term has been misunderstood.

Attended Lectures
Cpl. Harold M. Dunn, 23, of Baldwinsville, N. Y., said he voluntarily attended Communist lectures, but did not collaborate with his captors.

"I wanted to get the other side of the picture," he said. "Now I know it isn't so good. Since my return I have found out that they did quite a bit of lying. I am not a Communist and I never will be."

Dunn's mother told reporters from Baldwinsville that on his last visit home before his capture "I sat in amazement to hear him describe the evils of communism."

"Our minister said it was a better sermon against communism than he himself could preach," she said.

"I know some people are saying things about me," Dunn told reporters, "but I knew what I was doing. I'm not worried about it. I knew nothing of politics, one side or the other."

Puerto Rican Bitter
Sgt. Andre Ramirez, 33, of Aguadilla, P. R., was bitter in his condemnation of the progressives.

"The pros should be jailed," he said. "Ninety-nine years would do them good. Many men lost their lives fighting for what they believed in. The pros failed those men."

Ramirez acknowledged that he was forced to attend some lectures but said "they didn't work with me."

Others took a different view toward the progressives. "One of them might have been a friend who had helped you survive during the first winter," said Sgt. Harold Brown, 23, of New York City.

Russia Attempting To Bolster Grotewohl

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The State Department said today that concessions granted by Russia to Communist East Germany were primarily an attempt to bolster the "puppet regime" of Premier Otto Grotewohl.

The department said in a statement that the concessions announced yesterday may have been hastened by the June 17 demonstrations which it said showed that the East German regime had lost "all semblance of control" over the people of the Soviet zone.

Moscow announced yesterday that the Soviet Union has granted Communist East Germany seven major economic and political concessions. Included were an end of reparations payments after Jan. 1, release of certain German war prisoners and offers of substantial aid to the Soviet zone's economy.

Four Germans Sent To Jail As Red Spies

BIELEFELD, Germany, Aug. 24 (AP)—A British high court today convicted four telephone girls, were convicted by a British high court today of spying for Russia and sentenced to prison terms ranging up to five years.

The four were convicted of collecting information on British military installations near the Soviet zone frontier and relaying it to the Russian intelligence from 1951 until their arrest last July.

Werner Berg, 43, a traveling salesman, received a 5-year term. Presiding Judge Sir Norman Edgley described him as the leader of the ring.

Erika Krueger, 33, the telephone operator, was sentenced to four years. The judge said she was "an intelligent woman and a very dangerous ring member."

Press Helps Author To Locate Eye Doctor

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—An eye specialist was quickly located in a remote section of Colorado today after aid of news services and radio networks was enlisted by author-Cartoonist James Thurber's wife has been stricken with a serious eye ailment.

The writer asked for help following failure of his own efforts to reach Dr. Gordon Bruce. For years Dr. Bruce has treated Thurber, who himself is nearly blind. Thurber said his wife had become afflicted with a partially detached retina on the left eye, and that her right eye quickly developed the same trouble.

Williams Is Ike's Troubleshooter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—It was learned today that Walter Williams, undersecretary of commerce, has moved to the White House on almost a full-time basis as a special economic advisor and troubleshooter for President Eisenhower.

He is in charge of setting up a nationwide alarm bell service to warn the administration of any brewing troubles in the economy. Williams is a West Coast mortgage banker who headed the "Citizens for Eisenhower" movement in the campaign last year. His name was prominently mentioned as a possible choice for secretary of commerce before Eisenhower named Sinclair Weeks to the post.

The informed administrative source who disclosed Williams' new spot as a top aide to Eisenhower said Williams is putting together a nationwide network of businessmen whose task will be to give early warning of any economic weakening in their areas.

Siciliano Takes Over Post In Labor Dept.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Rocco Carmine Siciliano, 31-year-old Chicago businessman, today was sworn in as an assistant secretary of labor.

The new assistant secretary worked from 1948 until 1950 for the National Labor Relations Board. Since then he has been treasurer and labor relations supervisor for Procon, Inc. The firm is engaged in constructing oil and chemical processing plants.

Jackson Warns Of Liberty Threat

BOSTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson said tonight that individual liberty is more endangered by "being gradually bartered" for security than by the possibility of "any sudden overthrow."

"Traditional freedoms are less in danger of any sudden overthrow than of being bartered or traded for something else on which the people place a higher current value," Justice Jackson declared.

In a speech prepared for the judiciary banquet of the 75th annual meeting of the American Bar Association, he said:

"This movement is likely to progress strictly within the forms of law. Government gradually takes over direction of the total life of the nation . . . It regulates each step of one's daily affairs and tolerates no conflicting loyalties or duties."

"In moderation, many may welcome this as a 'planned economy' or 'welfare state'; in excess, it becomes the totalitarian state."

Justice Jackson assured the delegates that he was "not alarmed by any 'clear and present danger' of this whole train of evils overtaking us in the United States."

Asphalt Tank Explodes

ELKTON, Md., Aug. 24 (AP)—A tank of molten asphalt blazed into an inferno on a highway project just across the Delaware line from

Elkton today when a spark set it afire.

No one was hurt and no houses were endangered as the exploding tank set two others afire and 12,000 gallons of burning asphalt sent up a pillar of fire and smoke visible for 20 miles.

One variety of termite will eat through lead or concrete in search of wood.

INSIDE AMCELLE

Plant traffic must be kept moving

Traffic bottlenecks for either people or materials at Amcelle would slow down production, make the plant less efficient, and give our competitors an edge on us. To prevent this, more than 50 workers are on the job around the clock in all sections of the plant to keep materials and vehicles moving and to help travel safely.

Two departments have responsibility for this job—Engineering, whose Yard Section maintains and operates all the specialized equipment and keeps up roadways, parking lots and over five miles of railroad tracks; and Personnel, whose Plant Protection Section controls all traffic on plant property.

The special equipment alone would serve the needs of a fair-sized town — trucks, trailers, dump trucks, a mail truck, an ice truck, a garbage truck, a fire truck and an ambulance. Then there is still heavier equipment — three huge cranes, four tractors, a bulldozer, snow plows and street sweepers. Celanese originally invested about $137,000 in this equipment. At today's prices, it would cost almost twice as much to replace these items.

Inside Amcelle there are nearly three miles of hard-surfaced roads from 16 to 24 feet wide that carry as much tonnage a year as many state roads. Year round they have to be kept in good repair, swept clean or cleared of snow. The plows go to work while snow is still falling, and sand, cinders and other materials are spread on roads and walks. It takes 15 to 20 men about 12 hours to clear a six-inch snow.

Traffic regulations at the plant are much like those in effect in many cities. Permits are required to drive inside the gates; speed limits are set low for safety's sake; and white lines mark off pedestrian walks and crossings. Violations are reported by the field men and traffic "tickets" are given out to minor violators.

Care of the more than 13 acres of parking lots and the 83 garages for cars and trucks is the job of Engineering, which also maintains the floodlights for the lots and the street lights on walks and roads inside the plant, as well as some 24 lights on Route 220 outside the plant.

Thanks to the efficient operation of this plant traffic system, last year Amcelle handled safely and with a minimum of congestion over 30,000 coal trucks and other vehicles that traveled the plant roads.

The employees who make up the plant traffic personnel have no direct hand in the making of acetate yarn and flake, yet if their jobs were not done, the rest of Amcelle's people would suffer. Plant traffic is one of the many activities whose smooth operation adds importantly to the making of the products that earn the money to keep Amcelle people employed.

"Traditional freedoms are less in danger of any sudden overthrow than of being bartered or traded for something else on which the people place a higher current value," Justice Jackson declared.

In a speech prepared for the judiciary banquet of the 75th annual meeting of the American Bar Association, he said:

"This movement is likely to progress strictly within the terms of legislation and the forms of law. Government gradually takes over direction of the total life of the nation . . . It regulates each step of one's daily affairs and tolerates no conflicting loyalties or duties."

"In moderation, many may welcome this as a 'planned economy' or 'welfare state'; in excess, it becomes the totalitarian state."

Justice Jackson assured the delegates that he was "not alarmed by any 'clear and present danger' of this whole train of evils overtaking us in the United States."

ELKTON, Md., Aug. 24 (AP)—A tank of molten asphalt blazed into an inferno on a highway project just across the Delaware line from

Elkton today when a spark set it afire.

No one was hurt and no houses were endangered as the exploding tank set two others afire and 12,000 gallons of burning asphalt sent up a pillar of fire and smoke visible for 20 miles.

INSIDE AMCELLE

Plant traffic must be kept moving

Traffic bottlenecks for either people or materials at Amcelle would slow down production, make the plant less efficient, and give our competitors an edge on us. To prevent this, more than 50 workers are on the job around the clock in all sections of the plant to keep materials and vehicles moving and to help travel safely.

Two departments have responsibility for this job—Engineering, whose Yard Section maintains and operates all the specialized equipment and keeps up roadways, parking lots and over five miles of railroad tracks; and Personnel, whose Plant Protection Section controls all traffic on plant property.

The special equipment alone would serve the needs of a fair-sized town — trucks, trailers, dump trucks, a mail truck, an ice truck, a garbage truck, a fire truck and an ambulance. Then there is still heavier equipment — three huge cranes, four tractors, a bulldozer, snow plows and street sweepers. Celanese originally invested about $137,000 in this equipment. At today's prices, it would cost almost twice as much to replace these items.

Inside Amcelle there are nearly three miles of hard-surfaced roads from 16 to 24 feet wide that carry as much tonnage a year as many state roads. Year round they have to be kept in good repair, swept clean or cleared of snow. The plows go to work while snow is still falling, and sand, cinders and other materials are spread on roads and walks. It takes 15 to 20 men about 12 hours to clear a six-inch snow.

Traffic regulations at the plant are much like those in effect in many cities. Permits are required to drive inside the gates; speed limits are set low for safety's sake; and white lines mark off pedestrian walks and crossings. Violations are reported by the field men and traffic "tickets" are given out to minor violators.

Care of the more than 13 acres of parking lots and the 83 garages for cars and trucks is the job of Engineering, which also maintains the floodlights for the lots and the street lights on walks and roads inside the plant, as well as some 24 lights on Route 220 outside the plant.

Thanks to the efficient operation of this plant traffic system, last year Amcelle handled safely and with a minimum of congestion over 30,000 coal trucks and other vehicles that traveled the plant roads.

The employees who make up the plant traffic personnel have no direct hand in the making of acetate yarn and flake, yet if their jobs were not done, the rest of Amcelle's people would suffer. Plant traffic is one of the many activities whose smooth operation adds importantly to the making of the products that earn the money to keep Amcelle people employed.

Nine Killed In Weekend Car Crashes On State Highways

By The Associated Press
Nine persons died in smashups on Maryland highways over the week-end, one of the most deadly of the summer.

Only the far-western corner of the state escaped the slaughter, and Southern Maryland was the deadliest section.

Two lives were snuffed off in one of the accidents—near Forestville, just southeast of Washington, on the Marlboro Pike.

Two airmen stationed at Andrews Field were killed when their car went out of control on a turn Sunday night, smashed into two poles and burst into flames. The two men killed were passengers—Thomas Andrews Stevens, 20, of Buffalo, N.Y., and David A. Viers, 42, of Beltspring, Va.

Perhaps the most spectacular mishap involved four cars, killed one, and injured a dozen not far away on U. S. 301 Saturday afternoon near Upper Marlboro.

Police said an Army corporal stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground tried to pass a line of traffic on a hill and rammed head-on into a pickup truck.

The soldier's car then careened into another following the truck, killing its driver, Edward R. James, 41, of Hickory, N. C. The truck sheared off the side of another car.

Baltimore Allocated 1,306 Housing Units

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Public Housing Administration announced today it will ration among 49 cities and towns the 20,000 new low-rent units that Congress has authorized for construction this year.

Congress, which last year permitted construction of 35,000 new public housing units, clamped a tighter restriction on the program this year.

Allocations included:
Maryland — Baltimore, 1,306.

Martinsburg Youth Has Sad Birthday

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 24 (AP)—Douglas E. Golliday of Martinsburg, W. Va., had a sad birthday today because he looked too long at two good looking girls walking down the street.

Brought before Magistrate Paul Ottinger, Golliday testified he took his eyes momentarily off the highway to give two girls the "once over." The car he was driving crashed into a parked car owned by Earl Andrews of Hagerstown. Golliday was given his choice of paying $125 in fines or spending 40 days in jail on charges of reckless driving and failure to have a license.

Police also held him for West Virginia authorities because the car he was driving was reported stolen in Martinsburg.

This was Golliday's 18th birthday.

Ex-POW Reunited With Ailing Mom

By The Associated Press
The Maryland men held prisoner for long months by the Reds in Korea started trickling back to their home state today.

The most poignant scene was at Andrews Air Force Base just outside Washington. Sgt. Webster Leo Johnson, who has spent 32 months in a Communist prison camp, held tight to his frail, 90-pound mother for fully a minute.

Doctors said Mrs. Bertha R. Johnson, 55, has cancer and can live no longer than ten days.

Members of the family said neither the soldier or his mother knew this when he stepped from a plane on which the Army rushed him home from the West Coast. The Johnsons live near Annapolis.

The sergeant was one of a dozen Marylanders who arrived in San Francisco Sunday night aboard the transport Nelson Walker, carrying the first large contingent of released prisoners back to the United States from Freedom Village in Korea.

Accused Doctor Hurt In Gas Blast

CAMBRIDGE, Aug. 24 (AP)—Dr. St. Elmo Brady, 31-year-old general practitioner charged with selling narcotics, remained in serious condition late today after neighbors found him unconscious in his gas filled home.

Brady was arrested last Saturday and released in $1,000 bail after Federal Narcotics Bureau agents charged him with selling 200 tablets of dilaudid, an opium derivative, to a narcotics agent.

An explosion occurred at the Negro doctor's house early today. Neighbors found him unconscious, sitting in a chair in the kitchen. Police Chief Grayson Price said the gas burners on the stove had been turned on and gas which filled the room apparently had been ignited by the pilot flame on a hot water heater.

Iran's "Hereditary" Shah

As long as the situation in Iran remained anything but clear, the future appeared to hinge upon the sources of personal and political loyalty to the young shah. Between deposed Premier Mossadegh and the royal family there was a long history of bitterness and, ironically, amnesty.

Dr. Mossadegh had been imprisoned in 1930, then exiled, by Riza Khan Pahlevi, father of the present shah, for criticism of the court's financial policies. He was allowed to return to Iran (Persia) on the plea of the then crown prince, Mossadegh was again jailed in 1941, but was released later that year when Riza Shah abdicated in favor of his son, Mohammed Riza Pahlevi. Iran was then being jointly occupied by the United States, Great Britain, and Soviet Russia.

Mossadegh came to power as Premier on April 29, 1951, seven weeks after the assassination of the "strong-man" reformer, Premier Ali Razmara, who had opposed nationalization of the oil. Mossadegh was backed by the apparently strong National Front party, which in 1949 he had founded with Hussein Fatemi, reported to pieces on August 19, 1953 by a Tehran mob.

The Majlis (parliament) and the Shah failed to back Mossadegh on plans to form a new cabinet, to be war minister as well as premier, and to exercise dictatorial powers for six months in July 1952. Mossadegh resigned on July 16; street riots broke out promptly; Mossadegh was recalled four days later.

Mossadegh was forced from his home by a hostile mob on February 28 last, but retained control of the government after four days of rioting by nationalists, royalists, Communists, and religious groups. Meanwhile, and thereafter, he had been steadily building up his own power and whittling away at that of the shah and of the Majlis. The shah had fled the country on August 16 after refusing to issue an order dissolving the Majlis. The refusal followed Mossadegh's sweeping victory in a referendum calling upon the shah to do so. The voting was not secret.

Mohammed Pahlevi has yet to show the iron will of his father, a tough army careerist who was elected shah by the Majlis in 1925. The parliament at the same time made the Crown of Darius hereditary in the family of Riza Shah. But although the dynasty is a very recent one by any standards, the young shah is held in deep affection by the large proportion of the illiterate masses who revere the monarchy as an institution.

Presumably the shah has the loyalty of the careerists in the 150,000-man U.S.-trained army. His premier, Fazlollah Zahedi, is a politician-general who was arrested as a Nazi agent by British officers in World War II.

The shah was reported to have the backing also of the Bakhtiari tribes (Persians)—his present, second wife is the daughter of the tribal leader—and the Kashgais (originally Turkish) who make up most of the nomadic population, about 50 per cent of the total.

The shah has powerful opposition in the cities from the Communists of the illegal Tudeh party. The Communists can control masses of demonstrators in Tehran. From 50,000 to 100,000 were reported as participants in a Tudeh rally in Tehran on July 21. But they were believed to be for the most part unarmed.

The shah apparently had the support also for the Moslem religious leader, the fanatic Mullah, Ayatullah Kashani, whom Mossadegh had deposed as president of the Majlis. But the shah has enjoyed British friendship, and Kashani is violently anti-British as well as violently anti-Communist.

By The Wayside

About this time of the year the major league hopper gives an extra-hard shake and out fall one or more teams whose dismal, individual futures consist mainly of playing doormat for the rest of the league. First the Pittsburgh Pirates, of the National League, passed the point of no return. Then it became mathematically impossible for the St. Louis Browns of the American League to win.

This calls for a dog days inspection. Having checked the standings, there is making. But try and another subway series is in the making. But try and sell that package in, say, Milwaukee or Chicago. Both teams could catch fire, and so could either of the third place clubs.

The Dodgers might go into one of those horrifying declines, and the Yankees might begin to creak, pop up, and strike out. It's happened.

Probably the greatest disappointment of all has been the New York Giants. They didn't turn the corner as is their mid-season custom. It is difficult to envision the Phillies getting struck by the winning lightning in the less than five weeks remaining.

However, despite the pronouncement of the Dodgers' Charlie Dressen that "the Giants is dead," it is noted that the Giants' manager, Leo Durocher, has just been signed on for another two years. But Charlie Grimm of the Milwaukee Braves and Eddie Stanky of the Cards have also signed up for long term contracts, so that any morale building factor that people might spot in Durocher's action seems effectively cancelled out.

But the fact that the bottom running team in each league has fallen by the wayside comes as something of a shock. For with this happening, can the series and the opening of football practice be far behind?

Action Overdue

Attorney General Brownell is "shocked." He has been in Southern California, just north of the Mexican border, listening to everybody who had anything to tell him about the "wetbacks." It is, he says, "a serious and thoroughly unsatisfactory situation" causing "universal dissatisfaction" on the part of all concerned. He is continuing to gather facts. After he has digested them, he intends to make recommendations and perhaps ask for legislation.

The situation is at least as bad as he says it is. The facts have been known for years. The only change is that the situation is getting worse. The number of illegal Mexican immigrants crossing the border to get seasonal work as migratory farm laborers rose in 1952 to an estimated figure of more than 2,000,000.

The evils involved in the annual influx of wetbacks are large. It drives down wage rates. It raises serious health problems. It leaves ajar a door through which dope smugglers, Communist agents and other illegal immigrants may enter the United States. It costs the government millions of dollars to proceed against and deport a small percentage of wetbacks every year.

Because Washington for years has been soft toward immigration of all sorts, it has left the door open for a veritable flood of illegal immigrants. If Attorney General Brownell does something about it, he will be taking action that is long overdue.

How To Keep Well

Hernia Repair

Surgery is the recognized treatment for hernia. Fewer and fewer trusses are used and the injection treatment, so popular 20 years ago, rarely is done today. In addition, advances in surgery have made the operation so safe that age is no longer a barrier.

The inguinal hernia is most common and 90 per cent of all victims are men. Males are more vulnerable for anatomical reasons and also because they are subjected to greater stress in their occupations. Swelling appears in the groin, which is most noticeable when standing or straining. A large hernia may exceed a baseball in size but some are so small they can be detected only by examining the parts.

Surgery offers the only hope of permanent cure. It permits the weakened area to be reconstructed into a strong wall that prevents the abdominal contents from protruding. The truss is a mechanical device that keeps the bulge in place but the moment it is removed, the swelling reappears. Moreover, many trusses irritate the skin and weaken the surrounding muscles.

In the past, hernia repair was followed by so many recurrences the procedure almost fell into disrepute. It is no wonder the physician was inclined to advise a truss and rarely recommended surgery unless the hernia was large. This advice had its drawbacks because surgery is easier to do and the effects are more lasting when the hernia is small. Nowadays the operation is performed before little hernias become big ones.

No one is too old to have a hernia repaired provided he is in good health. With our improved surgical techniques and anesthetics, it is amazing how easily oldersters are able to undergo surgery. Even those with diabetes, heart trouble, and high blood pressure do well. On the other hand, victims of asthma or chronic bronchitis may present problems because coughing interferes with healing and may reopen the wound by pulling out a stitch or two. This is why physicians also suggest not smoking for two or three days preceding surgery to eliminate that cigarette cough. Obesity is another drawback because the extra layers of fat not only interfere with the surgeon's work but delay healing. Moreover, this blubber lends no support in a reconstructive job of this type. Many surgeons will ask the hernia patient to report back for operation after losing 30 pounds.

The success of hernia repair depends also on the state of the tissues. Sometimes they are so overstretched the sutures will not hold; they are like old rags that tear when tension is applied. To overcome this handicap the surgeon has an unbelievable bag of tricks. He may use as suture material, strips of fibrous tissue that remain alive and grow in place. ## The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Ike Is Anxious To Keep Bernie Baruch From Recruting To Democratic Fold; Baruch Warns Senators About Deflation

WASHINGTON — There was an interesting backstage factor behind the President's long flight from Denver to New York to dedicate the Baruch housing project.

Bernie Baruch, the 83-year-old elder statesman, who supported Eisenhower last fall, has been wavering. Irked at some of the Eisenhower economic policies, especially the increasing price rise and higher interest rates, Baruch has been pivoting to his original Democratic faith.

And shortly before Congress adjourned, Elder Statesman Baruch held a secret breakfast conference with 16 Democratic senators at which he had some scathing things to say about the administration's fiscal policies and the fact that the national debt was being increased by the Treasury policy of paying higher interest rates on government bonds.

Baruch was particularly critical of Randolph Burgess, special assistant to the secretary of the Treasury, who's in charge of floating government loans and who has recommended the increased interest on government loans.

Burgess is a former official of the National City Bank, and Baruch told the Democratic senators that when he had learned of certain Burgess policies, he withdrew his account from the National City Bank. The account was for $1,500,000 and the next day, Baruch said the bank telephoned to ask the reason for the withdrawal. The elder statesman replied that if a bank followed the policies of a man such as Burgess he could have no confidence in it.

Baruch Sees Deflation

Baruch also warned the senators that the United States faced a deflationary period, and that deflation could always be dangerous. However, he said that if the government was cautious and careful, we could weather the storm.

He laid special emphasis on the importance of building up our defense pact with Europe and felt that NATO could be not only a steady influence from the point of view of defense but from the viewpoint of heading off too drastic deflation.

The 16 Democratic senators came away from the breakfast conference convinced that Baruch had definitely returned to the Democratic fold, that his economic wisdom was as sound as ever and that he had his fingers crossed about the Eisenhower administration. Though the breakfast was supposed to be secret, news leaks quickly in Washington, and this was the biggest reason why Ike flew back from Denver to New York.

Baruch Slum Clearance

During the Baruch dedication ceremonies, N. Y. city planner Bob Moses, a Republican, let out some scathing criticism of Eisenhower housing policies right in front of the President.

"I take this occasion to plead for the courageous, clean-cut surgical removal of all our old slums," Commissioner Moses said just before Ike spoke.

"Unfortunately recent cuts by Congress have indicated a deplorable resurgence of hard-boiled reactionaries to whom acreage is more important than people. As a result, Baruch houses, among others, have been cut in two."

Moses referred to the fact that the Taft Public Housing Slum Clearance Act, which Senator Taft championed so vigorously, was gutted shortly before he died, first by an appropriations cut, second by Eisenhower's appointment of ex-Congressman Albert Cole of Kansas, who when in Congress not only voted against slum clearance but made a speech calling it communism.

Washington Whirl

Europeans are more curious about Senator McCarthy than anyone since Adolf Hitler. The book, "McCarthy: The Man, The Senator, The Ism," received the widest reviews in the history of British journalism and is now selling like hot cakes throughout England. Publishers in Germany and Israel have also contracted to translate the book and put it out in those two countries. . . . The State Department is urging its Foreign Service officers to ship their household goods by air freight, pointing out that it actually costs less to fly a refrigerator from Washington, D. C., to Havana, Cuba, than to send it by rail or truck 100 miles to Richmond, Va. . . . American tourists have found that they can actually buy American-made automobiles in Europe and the U. S. market home cheaper than the U. S. market price. Explanation: the autos are built at European subsidiary plants, where labor is dirt-cheap. . . . Guards now have orders to stop bird-lovers from feeding the birds around government buildings. The order declares: "Feeding pigeons and other birds from the windows and other parts of buildings encourages them to roost in and about the building in greater numbers and creates a cleaning problem."

When I go down to the village, the general store these days, the conversation is always about high prices. So I make the point that if you call a dollar 50 cents, then the prices are about right. Maybe it is a false argument, because nobody seems to want to call a dollar 50 cents. Yet, why not? It is a fact.

Apparently most Americans do not desire to face facts. And they do not want to face one of the most unpleasant facts which is that if the national debt goes higher and the budget remains unbalanced, money will be worth even less and prices will go still higher.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The most sensational report by a committee of Congress in a century or more of American history has just been unanimously approved and issued to the public by the Internal Security Subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee of the United States Senate. For it shows the outline, design, and active participants in a deliberate conspiracy against the United States Government unparalleled since the treason of Aaron Burr.

The report tells that President Truman and other high officials were warned as early as November 1945 by a secret memorandum from the FBI that a Soviet spy ring existed within the Roosevelt and Truman administrations. Names were given and the testimony of confessed Communists was furnished by the FBI. Nevertheless, in 1948 Mr. Truman was calling an attempted exposure of the whole thing a "Red herring" intended, he said, by the Republicans to divert attention from legislative delays. The Democratic administration, moreover, up to the very end of its term in January 1953 was denouncing the congressional investigations which had been bringing to light the facts about the Communist conspiracy.

Those Democratic members of Congress and campaign speakers, including Governor Stevenson, who have been proclaiming far and wide that the job of ferreting out Communists from government had better be left solely to the FBI will find by reading the new report that this isn't enough, especially if what the FBI turns up is consistently ignored. For the FBI itself cannot prosecute cases or even make public the damaging facts it has collected or ask for the indictment by a grand jury of a single suspect unless the President or the attorney general direct that such a specific step be taken.

All the Democratic and Republican members of the Senate's Internal Security Committee have signed the 26,000-word report, which is the result of nearly three years of investigative work and hearings. Senator Willis Smith, Democrat, of North Carolina and a former president of the American Bar Association, would unquestionably have signed the report but for his death a few weeks ago. He was known to have been shocked by the facts revealed in the large number of sessions of the committee in which he participated. His comments at the time were always in accord with those of the other members of the committee.

Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin has never been a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and has had no part in its proceedings or in the making of its report. But the findings certainly vindicate many of the broad charges he has made, notably that the FBI's information was disregarded by the executive branch of the government under the last two administrations and that hence congressional investigations became essential.

The new report shows that only two of the Soviet spy rings inside the American government have thus far been exposed and that two more rings—not known to have existed—have not yet been uncovered largely because of lack of information from and cooperation by key witnesses—American citizens—who hide behind the Fifth Amendment and who are being encouraged to continue to do so by "left wing" organizations and other defenders of the Fifth Amendment technique.

The committee report says: "Despite the fact that the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other security agencies had reported extensive information about this Communist penetration, little was done by the executive branch to interrupt the Soviet operatives in their ascent in government until congressional committees brought forth to public light the facts of the conspiracy. . . .

"The Soviet international organization has carried on a successful and important penetration of the United States Government and this penetration has not been fully exposed.

"This penetration has extended from the lower ranks to the top-level policy and operating positions in our government. . . .

"In general, the Communists who infiltrated our government worked behind the scenes — guiding research and preparing memoranda on which basic American policies were set, writing speeches for cabinet officers, influencing congressional investigations, drafting laws, manipulating administrative reorganizations — always serving the interest of their Soviet superiors.

"Thousands of diplomatic, political, military, scientific and economic secrets of the United States have been stolen by Soviet agents in our government and other persons closely connected with the Communists. . . .

"Powerful groups and individuals within the executive branch were at work obstructing and weakening the effort to eliminate Soviet agents from positions in government."

The committee says that, according to evidence in its records, those involved "in the secret Communist underground included an executive assistant to the President of the United States, an assistant secretary of the Treasury, a United States Treasury attaché in China, the secretary of the International Monetary Fund, the head of the Latin American Division of the Office of Strategic Services, a member of the National Labor Relations Board, secretary of the National Labor Relations Board, chief counsel of the Senate Subcommittee on Civil Liberties," and several others in wartime projects and boards.

Matter Of Fact

By STEWART ALSOP

Taxes And H-Bombs

WASHINGTON

The government analysts are reported to be tentatively convinced that the Soviet hydrogen bomb was an interim weapon, similar to the American bomb tested at Eniwetok in 1951.

If this is correct, the purposes of the Soviet explosion were to gain preliminary data on the hydrogen fusion reaction, and to test the very large atomic bomb that is needed to trigger a full-scale hydrogen bomb. The 1951 Eniwetok bomb designed for these purposes had a power of about 250 kilotons, or about 250,000 tons of TNT. The next year we tested our full-scale hydrogen bomb, with a power of three to five megatons, or 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons of TNT.

If the Soviets follow their first pattern, as is expected, the first full-scale hydrogen bomb should be tested in 1954. Meanwhile, there are reliable expert forecasts of an early test of a very much larger American hydrogen bomb, with a power that may run as high as 10 megatons, or 10,000,000 tons of TNT.

These facts are enough to establish the reality of the American atomic lead. They sufficiently explain the statement of the chairman of the Congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, Representative W. Sterling Cole, that the American atomic program is still "pre-eminent."

The question is, unfortunately, whether "pre-eminence" matters. According to the American government's official estimates, the Kremlin is now able to cripple this country by air-atomic attack. According to the same estimates, the Kremlin will gain the ability to devastate this country—to strike a knockout blow that will force our surrender to the enemy—within 18 to 24 months.

Poor Consolation

The recent Soviet bomb test plainly suggests that these American government estimates have erred, if at all, on the side of caution. When the Kremlin has the bombs and the airpower to destroy this country, it will be a very poor consolation to know that we have more bombs than the Kremlin. The consolation will be all the thinner, moreover, since the Kremlin is rapidly building an air defense against our bombs, while we have no air defense worthy of the name and are unlikely to buy one.

The story of how our policy makers have handled this vital problem of the changing air-atomic balance between the Soviet Union and the United States can be allowed to speak for itself.

In brief, when Dwight D. Eisenhower entered the White House last winter, the first thing he found was a warning of grave danger, and an ambitious American air defense program to ward the danger off. Initially, the President seems to have been much impressed. But the air-defense program was a good to cost a lot of money, and going to mean tax increases were more dangerous than hydrogen bombs.

As a result, the National Security Council has been walking up and back away from this vital problem for eight long months. The vast accumulation of data left behind by the Truman administration has now been supplemented by no less than three major committee reports—from the Kelly Committee, headed by Dr. Morley Kelly, of Bell Telephone Laboratories; from the Edwards Committee, headed by Lt. Gen. Ildw Edwards, and from the Bull Committee, headed by the President's wartime G-3, Maj. Gen. Harold Bull.

The Kelly Committee, composed of leading scientists and industrialists, recommended a strong air-defense program. The Edwards Committee, named to assess Soviet air-atomic capabilities, sharply underscored the extent of the danger. The Bull Committee, chosen by the Eisenhower National Security Council to get a "report from our own people," recommended an even stronger program than the Kelly Committee. Those who fear taxes more than H-Bombs were still displeased.

There is a new motto, however—"If you don't like the last committee's report, get a new committee." Consequently a fourth Committee on Air Defense has now been named, composed of industrialists and others whose most conspicuous qualification appears to be total ignorance of the problem. The most interesting thing about this new group is the presence in their midst of James B. Black, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Last Spring Mr. Black served on the "seven wise men" still another committee carefully selected by Budget Director Joseph Dodge and his allies. As desired by their sponsors, the seven wise men told the National Security Council that balancing the budget was far more important than the defense of the United States. The reappearance of a member of this packed jury on the committee to consider the air-defense problem is a coincidence altogether too striking to be ignored.

Iran's "Hereditary" Shah

As long as the situation in Iran remained anything but clear, the future appeared to hinge upon the sources of personal and political loyalty to the young shah. When deposed Premier Mossadeq and the royal family there was a long history of bitterness and, ironically, amnesty.

Dr. Mossadeq had been imprisoned in 1930, then exiled, by Riza Khan Pahlevi, father of the present shah, for criticism of the court's financial policies. He was allowed to return to Iran (Persia) on the plea of the then crown prince, Mossadeq was again jailed in 1941, but was released later that year when Riza Shah abdicated in favor of his son, Mohammed Riza Pahlevi. Iran was then being jointly occupied by the United States, Great Britain, and Soviet Russia.

Mossadeq came to power as Premier on April 29, 1951, seven weeks after the assassination of the "strong-man" reformer, Premier Ali Razmara, who had opposed nationalization of the oil. Mossadeq was backed by the apparently strong National Front party, which in 1949 he had founded with Hussein Fatemi, reportedly torn to pieces on August 19, 1953 by a Tehran mob.

The Majlis (parliament) and the Shah failed to back Mossadeq on plans to form a new cabinet, to be war minister as well as premier, and to exercise dictatorial powers for six months in July 1952. Mossadeq resigned on July 16; street riots broke out promptly; Mossadeq was recalled four days later.

Mossadeq was forced from his home by a hostile mob on February 28 last, but retained control of the government after four days of rioting by nationalists, royalists, Communists, and religious groups. Meantime and thereafter, he had been steadily building up his own power and whittling away at that of the shah and of the Majlis. The shah had fled the country on August 16 after refusing to issue an order dissolving the Majlis. The refusal followed Mossadeq's sweeping victory in a referendum calling upon the shah to do so. The voting was not secret.

Mohammed Pahlevi has yet to show the iron will of his father, a tough army careerist who was elected shah by the Majlis in 1925. The parliament at the same time made the Crown of Darius hereditary in the family of Riza Shah. But although the dynasty is a very recent one by any standards, the young shah is held in deep affection by the large proportion of the illiterate masses who revere the monarchy as an institution.

Presumably the shah has the loyalty of the careerists in the 150,000-man U.S.-trained army. His premier, Fazollah Zahedi, is a politician-general who was arrested as a Nazi agent by British officers in World War II.

The shah was reported to have the backing also of the Bakhtiari tribes (Persians)—his present, second wife is the daughter of the tribal leader—and the Kashgals (originally Turkish) who make up most of the nomadic population, about 50 per cent of the total.

The shah has powerful opposition in the cities from the Communists of the illegal Tudeh party. The Communists can control masses of demonstrators in Tehran. From 50,000 to 100,000 were reported as participants in a Tudeh rally in Tehran on July 21. But they were believed to be for the most part unarmed.

The shah apparently had the support also of the Moslem religious leader, the fanatic Mullah, Ayatullah Kashani, whom Mossadeq had deposed as president of the Majlis. But the shah has enjoyed British friendship, and Kashani is violently anti-British as well as violently anti-Communist.

By The Wayside

About this time of the year the major league hopper gives an extrahard shake and out fall one or more teams whose dismal, individual futures consist mainly of playing doormat for the rest of the league. First the Pittsburgh Pirates, of the National League, passed the point of no return. Then it became mathematically impossible for the St. Louis Browns of the American League to win.

This calls for a dog days inspection. Having checked the standings, there is reason to suspect that another subway series is in the making. But try and sell that package in, say, Milwaukee or Chicago. Both teams could catch fire, and so could either of the third place clubs.

The Dodgers might go into one of those horrifying declines, and the Yankees might begin to creak, pop up, and strike out. It's happened.

Probably the greatest disappointment of all has been the New York Giants. They didn't turn the corner as is their mid-season custom. It is difficult to envision the Phillies getting struck by the winning lightning in the less than five weeks remaining.

However, despite the pronouncement of the Dodgers' Charlie Dressen that "the Giants is dead," it is noted that the Giants' manager, Leo Durocher, has just been signed on for another two years. But Charlie Grimm of the Milwaukee Braves and Eddie Stanky of the Cards have also signed up for long term contracts, so that any morale building factor that people might spot in Durocher's action seems effectively cancelled out.

But the fact that the bottom running team in each league has fallen by the wayside comes as something of a shock. For with this happening, can the series and the opening of football practice be far behind?

Action Overdue

Attorney General Brownell is "shocked." He has been in Southern California, just north of the Mexican border, listening to everybody who had anything to tell him about the "wetbacks." It is, he says, "a serious and thoroughly unsatisfactory situation" causing "universal dissatisfaction" on the part of all concerned. He is continuing to gather facts. After he has digested them, he intends to make recommendations and perhaps ask for legislation.

The situation is at least as bad as he says it is. The facts have been known for years. The only change is that the situation is getting worse. The number of illegal Mexican immigrants crossing the border to get seasonal work as migratory farm laborers rose in 1952 to an estimated figure of more than 2,000,000.

The evils involved in the annual influx of wetbacks are large. It drives down wage rates. It raises serious health problems. It leaves ajar a door through which dope smugglers, Communist agents and other illegal immigrants may enter the United States. It costs the government millions of dollars to proceed against and deport a small percentage of wetbacks every year.

Because Washington for years has been soft toward immigration of all sorts, it has left the door open for a veritable flood of illegal immigrants. If Attorney General Brownell does something about it, he will be taking action that is long overdue.

Hernia Repair

Surgery is the recognized treatment for hernia. Fewer and fewer trusses are used and the injection treatment, so popular 20 years ago, rarely is done today. In addition, advances in surgery have made the operation so safe that age is no barrier.

The inguinal hernia is most common and 90 per cent of all victims are men. Males are more vulnerable for anatomical reasons and also because they are subjected to greater stress in their occupations. Swelling appears in the groin, which is most noticeable when standing or straining. A large hernia may exceed a baseball in size but some are so small they can be detected only by examining the parts.

Surgery offers the only hope of permanent cure. It permits the weakened area to be reconstructed into a strong wall that prevents the abdominal contents from protruding. The truss is a mechanical device that keeps the bulge in place but the moment it is removed, the swelling reappears. Moreover, many trusses irritate the skin and weaken the surrounding muscles.

In the past, hernia repair was followed by so many recurrences the procedure almost fell into disrepute. It is no wonder the physician was inclined to advise a truss and rarely recommended surgery unless the hernia was large. This advice had its drawbacks because surgery is easier to do and the effects are more lasting when the hernia is small. Nowadays the operation is performed before little hernias become big ones.

No one is too old to have a hernia repaired provided he is in good health. With our improved surgical techniques and anesthetics, it is amazing how easily oldsters are able to undergo surgery. Even those with diabetes, heart trouble, and high blood pressure do well. On the other hand, victims of asthma or chronic bronchitis may present problems because coughing interferes with healing and may reopen the wound by pulling out a stitch or two. This is why physicians also suggest not smoking for two or three days preceding surgery to eliminate that cigaret cough. Obesity is another drawback because the extra layers of fat not only interfere with the surgeon's work but delay healing. Moreover, this blubber lends no support in a reconstructive job of this type. Many surgeons will ask the hernia patient to report back for operation after losing 30 pounds.

The success of hernia repair depends also on the state of the tissues. Sometimes they are so overstretched the suture will not hold; they are like old rags that tear when tension is applied. To overcome this handicap the surgeon has an unbelievable bag of tricks. He may use as suture material, strips of fibrous tissue that remain alive and grow in place. Others graft or insert a piece of tantalum gauze for reinforcement.

For the FBI itself cannot prosecute cases or even make public the damaging facts it has collected or ask for the indictment by a grand jury of a single suspect unless the President or the attorney general directs that such a specific step be taken.

All the Democratic and Republican members of the Senate's Internal Security Committee have signed the 26,000-word report, which is the result of nearly three years of investigative work and hearings. Senator Willis Smith, Democrat, of North Carolina and a former president of the American Bar Association, would unquestionably have signed the report but for his death a few weeks ago. He was known to have been shocked by the facts revealed in the large number of sessions of the committee in which he participated. His comments at the time were always in accord with those of the other members of the committee.

Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin has never been a member of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee and has had no part in its proceedings or in the making of its report. But the findings certainly vindicate many of the broad charges he has made, notably that the FBI's information was disregarded by the executive branch of the government under the last two administrations and that hence congressional investigations became essential.

The new report shows that only two of the Soviet spy rings inside the American government have thus far been exposed and that two more rings—known to have existed—have not yet been uncovered largely because of lack of information from and cooperation by key witnesses—American citizens—who hide behind the Fifth Amendment and who are being encouraged to continue to do so by "left wing" organizations and other defenders of the Fifth Amendment technique.

The committee report says: "Despite the fact that the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other security agencies had reported extensive information about this Communist penetration, little was done by the executive branch to interrupt the Soviet operatives in their ascent in government until congressional committees brought forth to public light the facts of the conspiracy."

"The Soviet international organization has carried on a successful and important penetration of the United States Government and this penetration has not been fully exposed."

"This penetration has extended from the lower ranks to the top-level policy and operating positions in our government."

"In general, the Communists who infiltrated our government worked behind the scenes — guiding research and preparing memoranda on which basic American policies were set, writing speeches for cabinet officers, influencing congressional investigations, drafting laws, manipulating administrative reorganizations — always serving the interest of their Soviet superiors."

"Thousands of diplomatic, political, military, scientific and economic secrets of the United States have been stolen by Soviet agents in our government and other persons closely connected with the Communists."

"Powerful groups and individuals within the executive branch were at work obstructing and weakening the effort to eliminate Soviet agents from positions in government."

The committee says that, according to evidence in its records, those involved "in the secret Communist underground included an executive assistant to the President of the United States, an assistant secretary of the Treasury, a United States Treasury attaché in China, the secretary of the International Monetary Fund, the head of the Latin-American Division of the Office of Strategic Services, a member of the National Labor Relations Board, secretary of the National Labor Relations Board, chief counsel of the Senate Subcommittee on Civil Liberties", and several others in wartime projects and boards.

Taxes And H-Bombs

WASHINGTON

The government analysts are reported to be tentatively convinced that the Soviet hydrogen bomb was an interim weapon, similar to the American bomb tested at Eniwetok in 1951.

If this is correct, the purposes of the Soviet explosion were to gain preliminary data on the hydrogen fusion reaction, and to test the very large atomic bomb that is needed to trigger a full-scale hydrogen bomb. The 1951 Eniwetok bomb designed for these purposes had a power of about 250 kilotons, or about 250,000 tons of TNT. The next year we tested our full-scale hydrogen bomb, with a power of three to five megatons, or 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons of TNT.

If the Soviets follow the same pattern, as is expected, their first full-scale hydrogen bomb should be tested in 1954. Meanwhile, there are reliable expert forecasts of an early test of a very much larger American hydrogen bomb, with a power that may run as high as 10 megatons, or 10,000,000 tons of TNT.

These facts are enough to establish the reality of the American atomic lead. They sufficiently explain the statement of the chairman of the Congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, Representative W. Sterling Cole, that the American atomic program is still "pre-eminent."

The question is, unfortunately, whether "pre-eminence" matters. According to the American government's official estimates, the Kremlin is now able to cripple this country by air-atomic attack. According to the same estimates, the Kremlin will gain the ability to devastate this country—to strike a knockout blow that will force our surrender to the enemy—within 18 to 24 months.

Poor Consolation

The recent Soviet bomb test plainly suggests that these American government estimates have erred, if at all, on the side of caution. When the Kremlin has the bombs and the airpower to destroy this country, it will be a very poor consolation to know that we have more bombs than the Kremlin. The consolation will be all the thinner, moreover, since the Kremlin is rapidly building an air defense against our bombs, while we have no air defense worthy of the name and are unlikely to buy one.

The story of how our policy makers have handled this vital problem of the changing air-atomic balance between the Soviet Union and the United States can be allowed to speak for itself.

In brief, when Dwight D. Eisenhower entered the White House last winter, the first thing he found was a warning of grave danger, and an ambitious American air defense program to ward the danger off. Initially, the President seems to have been much impressed. But the air-defense program was going to cost a lot of money, and a good many Eisenhower advisers tend to think that taxes are more dangerous than hydrogen bombs.

As a result, the National Security Council has been walking up to and backing away from this vital program for eight long months. The vast accumulation of data left behind by the Truman administration has now been supplemented by no less than three major committee reports—from the Kelly Committee, headed by Dr. Mervyn Kelly, of Bell Telephone Laboratories; from the Edwards Committee, headed by Lt. Gen. Idwal Edwards, and from the Bull Committee, headed by the President's wartime G-3, Maj. Gen. Harold Bull.

The Kelly Committee, composed of leading scientists and industrialists, recommended a strong air-defense program. The Edwards Committee, named to assess Soviet air-atomic capabilities, sharply underscored the extent of the danger. The Bull Committee, chosen by the Eisenhower National Security Council to get a "report from our own people," recommended an even stronger program than the Kelly Committee. Those who fear taxes more than H-Bombs were still displeased.

There is a new motto, however—"If you don't like the last committee's report, get a new committee." Consequently a fourth committee on Air Defense has now been named, composed of industrialists and others whose most conspicuous qualification appears to be total ignorance of the problem. The most interesting thing about this new group is the presence in their midst of James B. Black, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Last Spring Mr. Black served on the "seven wise men," still another committee carefully selected by Budget Director Joseph Dodge and his allies. As desired by their sponsors, the seven wise men told the National Security Council that balancing the budget was far more important than the defense of the United States. The reappearance of a member of this packed jury on the committee to consider the air-defense problem is a coincidence altogether too striking to be ignored.

City Hall workers got a little lesson in natural history last week when a good will ambassador from Arizona paid a visit here.

The unidentified visitor stopped at City Hall Friday morning to present a sponge rubber model of an Arizona sand toad to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

Since the mayor was absent, the Arizona gave the toad to Mrs. Ruth Morgan, who was in charge of the office.

He commented he would like to have brought a live Arizona toad, since they make grand pets, but that the law prohibits taking the animals outside the state.

After chatting for a few moments, Mrs. Morgan asked if the toad was a model of a horned toad. "No, my dear," the genial visitor said, "horned toads are in Texas. Ours have crowns on them."

His subject will be "Advertising Sales Promotion."

Winter Ball In Latin America Approved For Major Leaguers

Three Players From Each Club To Participate

Limit Of 48 Is Set, Demands By Players Heard By Top Brass

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP) — The recently appointed attorney for the major league players met with baseball's top brass today and outlined a series of demands of the big league club owners.

Emerging from a two-hour session with Commissioner Ford Frick and league presidents Will Harridge of the American and Warren Giles of the National, Attorney J. Norman Lewis expressed satisfaction with the way his proposals were received and said he expected a reply within a reasonable period of time.

Lewis was accompanied by player representatives Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees and Ralph Kiner of the Chicago Cubs.

The attorney said he was not at liberty to disclose the players' demands but it was believed that they contained (1) an increase in the minimum wage, (2) elimination of night games on getaway days, (3) banning of all night games in spring training.

Submit Proposals

"We had a very satisfactory meeting with Commissioner Frick and league presidents Harridge and Giles," Lewis said. "We submitted various proposals to the Executive Council and we are hopeful the proposals will be acted upon favorably."

"Naturally, I am not at liberty to disclose what points were raised but I am happy to say that we received a very attentive and sympathetic audience."

Frick reaffirmed Lewis' statement that the discussions were amicable but declined to specify the points of discussion.

"All I will say right now," he said, "is that we have the players' proposals before us and we will give them very serious consideration."

Earlier, the Executive Council had met with a delegation of the Caribbean Baseball Federation and announced a new policy concerning winter ball.

Winter Ball Is OK'd

Hereafter, three players from each major league club will be permitted to play post season ball in Latin American countries. Under the new agreement a total of 48 established major leaguers now can earn extra money in those countries during the 1953-54 season.

The players will be restricted to 60 games in Cuba, Panama, Puerto Rico and Venezuela during the winter. No team will be permitted to carry more than three big leaguers, regardless whether they are natives of the Latin American countries or of the United States.

The Executive Council also said the barnstorming limit would be extended from 30 to 45 days after World Series for those players desiring to play in industrial leagues in the United States.

Umps Award Game To Potomac Valley, Stalling Charged

Charging that players were deliberately stalling so that the game would be called on account of darkness, umpires yesterday declared the Potomac Valley Cubs the winners over the Hercules Powder Kegs by the forfeit route in a County Softball League contest at Hercules Field.

The score was tied at 3-3 with Potomac Valley at bat in the top of the 7th when stalling tactics were used to delay the game as darkness was setting in. The Cubs had scored seven runs and were leading 10-3 when the arbiters stepped in and awarded the game to Potomac Valley.

Hayden Phillips pitched for the winners and Carder and Jackson hurled for Hercules.

Jaycees Top Times-News In 10th, 4-3

Brown's Bunt Sends Over Deciding Tally In Opener Of Series

Carl Brown's squeeze play bunt in the tenth inning sent Ramsey Rankin across the platter with the run that gave the Jaycees a 4-3 decision over the Times-News in the opening game of the Hot Stove Baseball League playoff series last night at Penn Avenue Field.

Ramsey Rankin opened the third overtime inning with a two-bagger and pilfered third base. Bill Hanekamp gave up an intentional pass to Bobby Page and Jimmy Stinson also walked, filling the bases. Then Brown delivered the bunt that settled the issue.

Tie Score In 7th

The game was scheduled for seven innings but in that frame the Newsies knotted the count at 3-all when Tommy Dunbar walked Arthur Washington, the latter advanced to second on an infield out and scored on an error by McGreevy.

Dunbar, who replaced Eddie Parsons on the mound in the 7th, got credit for the win, while Hanekamp, who supplanted Washington in the ninth was charged with the loss. Parsons fanned 11 and gave up one hit, a single by Diehl in the sixth. Dunbar gave two hits and fanned five. Washington fanned 10 and Hanekamp whiffed one.

The Jaycees outthrew the Newsies, 12 to 3. Bobby Page sparked the winners with two singles and a double and drew a pass, Eddie Parsons pounded two doubles and a single, Brown and Rankin had a two-bagger and single each and Dunbar had one hit and drew three walks. Diehl, Washington and Beck collected the losers' three safeties.

Jaycees Take 2-0 Lead

Singles by Page, Dunbar and Parsons netted the Jaycees' first tally in the opening frame. Dunbar's walk and Parsons' two-base clout made the score 2-0 in the fifth.

The Newsies tied it up at 2-2 in the 6th. Parsons hit Durst with a pitched ball. Powell walked. As Beck fanned, Durst went out in an attempt to steal third. Cioni drew a pass. Diehl's single and an error scored two runs.

The Jaycees grabbed a 3-2 lead in the bottom of the sixth when Rankin hit safely after two away and came home on Page's double.

C. Yates with a triple and double headed Parker's eighth hit attack while Koelker belted a homer for Schute's.

Afterwards he learned of Gordien's giant throw of 194 feet, 6 inches made the day before in Pasadena, bettering his own listed world mark of 186 feet, 11 inches.

"I would like to meet Gordien in a two-man meet," said Consolini.

Jaycees Top Times-News In 10th, 4-3

Brown's Bunt Sends Over Deciding Tally In Opener Of Series

Carl Brown's squeeze play bunt in the tenth inning sent Ramsey Rankin across the platter with the run that gave the Jaycees a 4-3 decision over the Times-News in the opening game of the Hot Stove Baseball League playoff series last night at Penn Avenue Field.

Ramsey Rankin opened the third overtime inning with a two-bagger and pilfered third base. Bill Hanekamp gave up an intentional pass to Bobby Page and Jimmy Stinson also walked, filling the bases. Then Brown delivered the bunt that settled the issue.

Tie Score In 7th

The game was scheduled for seven innings but in that frame the Newsies knotted the count at 3-all when Tommy Dunbar walked Arthur Washington, the latter advanced to second on an infield out and scored on an error by McGreevy.

Dunbar, who replaced Eddie Parsons on the mound in the 7th, got credit for the win, while Hanekamp, who supplanted Washington in the ninth was charged with the loss. Parsons fanned 11 and gave up one hit, a single by Diehl in the sixth. Dunbar gave two hits and fanned five. Washington fanned 10 and Hanekamp whiffed one.

The Jaycees outthrew the Newsies, 12 to 3. Bobby Page sparked the winners with two singles and a double and drew a pass, Eddie Parsons pounded two doubles and a single. Brown and Rankin had a two-bagger and single each and Dunbar had one hit and drew three walks. Diehl, Washington and Beck collected the losers' three safeties.

Jaycees Take 2-0 Lead

Singles by Page, Dunbar and Parsons netted the Jaycees' first tally in the opening frame. Dunbar's walk and Parsons' two-base clout made the score 2-0 in the fifth.

The Newsies tied it up at 2-2 in the 6th. Parsons hit Durst with a pitched ball. Powell walked. As Beck fanned, Durst went out in an attempt to steal third. Cioni drew a pass. Diehl's single and an error scored two runs.

The Jaycees grabbed a 3-2 lead in the bottom of the sixth when Rankin hit safely after two away and came home on Page's double.

The second game of the best-of-three series is set for Wednesday at Penn Avenue at 6:30 o'clock.

Daily Bridge Lesson

WHAT WAS HIS REASON?
WHENEVER your partner does something in the play which you had not expected, it is up to you to speculate on his reason. The little question, "Why did he do that?" can be the guide to all the rest of your actions. One clearcut situation of that kind comes when you have bid two suits and, against a No Trump contract, he leads the second of your suits instead of the first. The why of it is pretty likely to be that he had a holding of worthwhile length in that one, together with a probable re-entry.

When East saw his partner's lead of the heart 3, he should have made the deduction that it was probably from a five-card holding and that West also had some card or cards which he felt might be a re-entry. Actually no re-entry would have been required, with South holding only three hearts and East four, but East didn't reckon that way. He should have laid down his heart A after winning with the K on the first trick. West's 2 on the

If West leads the heart K and shifts to the spade 6, how should South play for 5-Diamonds?

DADDY MAY I HAVE A QUARTER FOR A MALTED MILK?
DAGWOOD MAY I HAVE TEN DOLLARS FOR THE NEW DRAPE MATERIAL?
THE ONLY THING A HUSBAND CAN HOLD HIS HAND OUT FOR IS TO SEE IF IT'S RAINING.

BRICK BRADFORD

BRICK IS LOWERED IN A CLOUD OF MIST TO THE FLOOR OF A SUBTERRANEAN CAVERN...
THE PRESSURE OF THIS GAS BROKE MY FALL AND LET ME DOWN GENTLY...
BUT WHERE AM I? SWIMMING ISN'T HERE WAITING FOR ME THIS TIME...
I MAY AS WELL LOOK AROUND. OTHERS MUST KNOW I'M HERE AND SOONER OR LATER THEY'LL SHOW THEMSELVES.

YEAH.
I'VE BEEN READING UP ON THOSE ANTS, SAM, KNOWN AS "PERUVIAN BLUE-BACKS"-- DEADLY!
WHEN FED CERTAIN LEAVES, THEIR STING CAUSES PARALYSIS, LOSS OF SPEECH AND ULTIMATE DEATH.
I DON'T SEE HOW THAT COULD POSSIBLY FIT INTO CARPENTER'S PRESENT TROUBLES, SAYS SAM. "NEITHER DO I," AGREES TRACY.
BUT THEY DON'T USUALLY NAP AT THIS TIME OF DAY.
MUST BE THE WEATHER.

 A X Y D L B A A X R
 M L O N G F E L L O W
 One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Council Sets Tax Rate At 1.36 Mark

Appropriations Total $1,400,630

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved a budget which provides $1,400,630 for operating the City of Cumberland for the fiscal year 1953-54 and set the tax rate at an all-time high of $1.36 for each $100 of assessable property.

The tax levy is eight cents above last year's $1.28 tax levy. It represents an increase of about 24 per cent since 1938, when $1.10 was levied.

The new tax rate is arrived at in this manner: 12.43 cents for interest on bonded debt; 15.66 cents for maturing serial bonds; 3.93 cents for sinking fund requirements on term bonds; and $1.0398 for current expenses (city operations).

In addition it is provided that 42.11 cents be levied on each $100 of bank stock in the city which will be applied to current expenses.

The levy sets out the assessable basis as $51,600,000 on real estate; $16,600,000 on personal corporation; and $3,300,000 on personal individual, for a total of $71,500,000. This total at the rate of $1.36 per $100 will yield $972,400.

Parade Features Opening Night At County Fair

Eight Tri-State area fire companies and auxiliaries shared $150 in prize money for making outstanding performances in the parade around the Fairgrounds which highlighted "Firemen's Night" at the 36th annual Cumberland Fair last night.

Some 36 units, including four drum and bugle corps and three bands, participated in the 55-minute parade. The participants lined up in the vicinity of Fairgo stable, then marched onto the track at the Jockey Club. From there they circled the track and marched past the grandstand which was well-filled for the Ranger Joe show.

Twenty-five dollar prizes were won by Potomac Fire Company of Westernport, the Froberg Fire Company and the Ridgeley Fire Company. The Westernport firefighters won their prize for making the best appearance with marching men in the parade. Froberg won its award for having the largest number of uniformed men marching. Ridgeley's prize was for the company making the best appearance with apparatus.

The following $15 prizes also were awarded:

Fort Ashby, W. Va., company making second best appearance with marching men; Hyndman, Pa., company with second largest number of uniformed men; Barton, company making second best appearance with apparatus; LaVale, ladies auxiliary with the most in line; District 16, North Branch, best-appearing auxiliary.

Cromwell C. Zembower was the chief marshal. Judges were Virgil A. Parker, Cumberland fire chief; J. French VanMeter, Orphans Court judge; Harry K. Poling and Harry Skelly.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Byrnes, 92, To Whom Truman Paid Visit, Dies At Eckhart

Mrs. Elizabeth E. (Sullivan) Byrnes, 92, who was visited by Former President Harry S. Truman two months ago, died at noon yesterday at her home in Eckhart.

A native of County Cork, Ireland, Mrs. Byrnes came to the United States when she was a small child, and had lived in Eckhart since she was about 10 years old. She was married to J. J. Byrnes who, until his death in 1917, was a prominent merchant in Eckhart.

5-Year-Old Girl Hit By Truck On South End Street

Ohio Woman Injured In W. Va. Collision

A five-year-old girl was hospitalized late yesterday after she ran against the side of a truck while crossing Gay Street in South Cumberland.

Rosella Conrad, daughter of Mrs. Rota Conrad of 207 West Oldtown Road, was in "fair" condition last night at Memorial Hospital with severe injuries of the left foot.

City Police Officer Charles W. Thompson said the child ran against the side of a ton-and-a-half pickup truck driven by Robert Grimes of Frostburg at about 4:40 p. m.

The left front wheel of the truck caught the child's foot and lacerated it badly, Thompson said.

The child was admitted to the hospital for X-rays and observation to determine the full extent of her injury.

No charges were filed against the driver.

In another accident yesterday, an Ohio woman was hospitalized after the car in which she was riding collided with a coal truck on U. S. Route 50 near the foot of Allegheny Front in Mineral County, W. Va.

Mrs. Mary Chalfont, 26, of Akron, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital at Keyser, W. Va., with severe bruises of the right arm, shoulder and body.

West Virginia State Police said the car, driven by Mrs. Chalfont's husband, Noel, 32, sideswiped a coal truck driven by Alston Leo Streets, 26, of Route 1, Elk Garden, W. Va., at 8:40 a. m. yesterday.

Streets, Chalfont and two passengers in the car escaped injury. Damage to the car was estimated at $600 to $700, and Chalfont was charged with failing to keep to the right.

Bus Passenger Seeks $30,000

A local woman who contends she was seriously injured when a Cumberland Transit Lines bus in which she was a passenger crashed into an automobile on Baltimore Street filed suit yesterday for $30,000 damages in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Leah G. VanMeter, through Attorney Simon F. Reilly, filed the suit against Guy M. Davis and Marie Elizabeth Davis, trading as Cumberland Transit Lines, and Mrs. Margaret M. Gehauf, who was driving the car struck by the bus.

The plaintiff in her declaration notes that she was a fare-paying passenger in a Cumberland Transit Lines bus which was travelling east on Baltimore Street near the B&O Railroad crossing when the accident occurred last September 23.

Mrs. VanMeter says she suffered a severe injury to her spine, resulting in numbness and weakness of both arms, inability to stoop, bend or lift. The plaintiff adds that she also injured her neck and head, has been unable to perform her household duties and has had heavy expenses for medical care and treatment.

Another day of warm but pleasant weather is forecast for today as the Weather Bureau predicted sunny skies and highest temperatures in the upper 80s. Yesterday's official high was 88, the low 54, and humidity at 6 p. m. was 37 per cent.

Two Big 4-H Families Show 17 Dairy Calves At Fairgo

Two big families—one just over the Mason-Dixon Line in Pennsylvania and the other just across the Potomac River in West Virginia—are exhibiting the majority of the 24 purebred calves being shown this week by Allegany County 4-H Dairy Calf Club at the Cumberland Fair.

Six members of the Anderson family, living just over the Pennsylvania line on Bedford Road, are exhibiting 11 head of Holstein stock. Clarence and Joyce have three calves each; Frank has two and Jimmy, Shirley and Nancy own one calf apiece.

Each of six Miltenberger children, who live on West Virginia State Route 28 just out of Ridgeley, is showing a Holstein calf too. They are Jimmy, Lois, Louis, Paul, Pauline and Mary Ellen Miltenberger.

Three other Holstein exhibitors among the 4-H group are Fred Loar of Vale Summit, Ronald Llewellyn of Midland and Robert

City To Study Problems On Rec Bond Issue

Ownership Of Fields Complicates Issues

The Mayor and Council will have to settle a number of important questions, some of them regarding the policies of public recreation, in deciding how the $150,000 recreation bond issue is to be used.

City officials have included bonds, authorized by a referendum in 1947, in three issues totaling $850,000 to be sold in the near future.

The long delayed decision resulted from the request of the City Recreation Board for the inclusion of $10,000 in the Recreation Budget for needed improvements to playgrounds here.

Will Sell Bonds

Faced with increases which were beyond their control but which would raise the tax rate nine cents, city officials decided to sell the issue as the only practical solution to leveling off the tax increase.

Last Friday, when the budget was shaped up in its final form, officials reported the Recreation Board wanted the $10,000 returned to the budget, and $58,000 of needed capital expenditures spread over a five year period, thus keeping the bond issue intact for a major project.

Both of Cumberland's recreation directors have favored such a plan. Edmund F. Hoey, who organized the department, wanted the money used for a recreation center in the city.

Favors Small Centers

Robert E. Pence, present director, has favored the use of the funds for the acquisition of a large tract of land which could be developed into a first class ball park and recreation center.

Mayor Roy W. Eves was spokesman for opponents to that idea. He pointed out he was not enthusiastic about a major play center.

The present move, he said, is toward neighborhood playgrounds. Many of the areas calling for playgrounds, he said, do not necessarily want centers with paid supervisors, but only a place for their children to play in safety.

Some work has already been done toward this idea, according to Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner, who said city forces have cleared off several areas when property owners agreed to use of vacant lots as neighborhood play centers.

One of the questions which will be raised is the use of funds from the bond issue to improve grounds which do not belong to the city.

At present, the city operates 16 play centers. Five of them are owned by the city, nine by the school board and one by the county.

City Comes First

Mayor Eves said the city owned fields are in a "deplorable" condition and should be rehabilitated.

Reporting on the use of bond funds for the play centers, Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, said no question would be raised on movable equipment and that blacktopping could probably be included.

Improvements totaling about $58,000 have been recommended by the City Recreation Board.

City owned fields, the mayor insists, must be brought up to standard first.

"Let's fix our fields up and then ask the School Board to fix theirs up," Mayor Eves declared.

He pointed out that the fields are used by school children during vacations.

It was also suggested that if school fields are to be improved by the city, the school board might be contacted as to the possibility of leases.

Judging Will Be Featured Today At Local Fair

Tri-State Folks Will Get Verdict

Today is the day when men and women, boys and girls of the Tri-State area find out just how good their livestock, vegetables, fruit, baked goods and handicrafts really are.

Judging will be completed in virtually all departments of the 36th annual Cumberland Fair today. Yesterday those with entries were busy with last-minute touches to see that their exhibits will appear at their very best when they are judged.

Some 23 homemakers club in Allegany County have arranged theme booths which will be judged this morning. The best will receive a $25 first prize but every club is assured of at least $10 out of the $250 in premium money.

Tonight through Friday at 8 o'clock a variety show will be presented on a stage which has been erected in front of the grandstand. Acts include George Lerch, juggler and light rope walker; Arabella, musical comedienne; the International Rollers, Jean Janes, equilibrist; the LaFlore cyclists, and Miss Jessie Griffith, organist. A fireworks display will follow the show.

Special guest of honor at the show tonight will be Miss Carol Robey of Hinkle Road, who was named Allegany County Farm Queen Saturday. She will be introduced by Mayor Roy W. Eves.

May Stop Brucellosis Cattle Payments In State Of Maryland

Federal indemnity payment for cattle slaughtered for Brucellosis will not be paid for Maryland livestock under a new plan forwarded by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Dr. A. L. Brueckner, director of state livestock sanitary service, explained that Secretary Benson recommended no payment for these cattle if they are not signed under Plan A of Brucellosis control.

Plan A requires all animals in the county be tested for Brucellosis and that reactors must be slaughtered. No Maryland counties meet this requirement, he added.

Dr. Brueckner requests that objections to the recommendations, not yet adopted, be filed with Dr. B. T. Simms, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Eugene Appold, 32, Valley Road, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday with a fractured right ankle suffered when he stepped from a vehicle into a ditch Sunday. X-rays were taken.

Mediators Enter Phone Negotiations

Three-Day Event Set For Annapolis

Federal mediators sat down with union and company representatives yesterday in Baltimore to help push them toward contract agreements which would prevent threatened strikes by Maryland telephone workers.

After the sessions, negotiators refused to comment on whether they had made any progress. They said further talks would be held today.

Votes authorizing walkouts have been reported by both the independent union bargaining on behalf of 3,800 switchboard operators and the CIO Communications Workers of America, bargaining agent for 34,000 installations, maintenance and clerical workers.

The CIO-CWA contract with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company expired July 26, the agreement covering the operators July 26. Both unions have been working under the old agreements during negotiations, but the extension for the operators expires at midnight tonight.

Mrs. Margaret Weiss, head of the operators' union, said last week a strike at that time was "quite possible."

The operators' representatives were said to have pressed for a reduction of the $14.50 differential in scale for various company offices throughout the state. The company was understood to have offered a $1.50-a-week general raise.

CIO-CWA representative J. L. Monaghan said his union had asked for $2-83 increases plus fringe benefits and had been offered $1-52.

Current scales were given as $40-$57 for operators, $39-$68.50 for clerical workers and $43.50-$57.50 for installation and repair workers.

Henry W. Beecher Spoke At First Fair 75 Years Ago

Although the Cumberland Fair as such, dates only from 1918, there have been agricultural expositions here at least for the past 75 years.

Proof that there was a fair here in 1878-75 years ago—is found on a framed poster in the office of the Cumberland Fair Association under the grandstand at Fairgo.

This poster advertised the first annual fair of the Agricultural and Mechanical Society of Western Maryland which was held in Cumberland October 22, 23, 24 and 25, 1878.

And far from featuring today's vaudeville-type entertainment, that early fair offered the "celebrated orator," Rev. H. W. Beecher, who delivered an address at the exposition on October 23, 1878. Undoubtedly this was the famed 19th century preacher, Henry Ward Beecher, whose sister wrote the anti-slavery book, Uncle Tom's

FCC Releases TV Station Priority List

Cumberland Shown Awaiting Hearing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today made public a city-priority list designed to guide the order in which it will hold future hearings on competing television applications.

The FCC, however, appeared to have been caught in a bit of its own procedure which apparently rendered the priority list meaningless in some cases—at least for the present.

Complications arise from the fact that contestants in some cities far down in the new list already have received written notices that their applications will be heard. Officials said that under FCC rules these hearings would come up first—ahead of cases in higher-priority cities that haven't been notified of a hearing date.

Left Door Open

The FCC, however, left the door wide open to deal with the contests in any order it sees fit. The announcement said the contests will be heard in the order in which hearing notices were sent out but added:

"Except as otherwise determined by the commission."

The so-called priority listings are in two sections.

Group A covers 73 cities which now have no local TV station, although they may have received previous uncontested grants not yet put into operation.

Group B listings cover 44 cities which have one or more operating stations.

In the A list, all of the first 11 cities have received hearing notices, and so have a double priority. However, Petersburg, Va., number 34 on the list, has had its hearing notices and so presumably will enjoy equal priority with the top 11.

Lifted Freeze

The commission, since lifting the freeze on new TV stations last summer, has made

Council Sets Tax Rate At 1.36 Mark

Appropriations Total $1,400,630

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved a budget which provides $1,400,630 for operating the City of Cumberland for the fiscal year 1953-54 and set the tax rate at an all-time high of $1.38 for each $100 of assessable property.

The tax levy is eight cents above last year's $1.28 tax levy. It represents an increase of about 24 per cent since 1938, when $1.10 was levied.

The new tax rate is arrived at in this manner: 12.43 cents for interest on bonded debt; 15.66 cents for maturing serial bonds; 3.93 cents for sinking fund requirements on term bonds; and $1.0398 for current expenses (city operations).

In addition it is provided that 42.11 cents be levied on each $100 of bank stock in the city which will be applied to current expenses.

The levy sets out the assessable basis as $51,600,000 on real estate; $16,600,000 on personal-corporation; and $3,300,000 on personal-individual, for a total of $71,500,000.

Parade Features Opening Night At County Fair

Eight Tri-State area fire companies and auxiliaries shared $150 in prize money for making outstanding performances in the parade around the Fairgo track which highlighted "Firemen's Night" at the 36th annual Cumberland Fair last night.

Some 36 units, including four drum and bugle corps and three bands, participated in the 55-minute parade. The participants lined up in the vicinity of Fairgo tracks, then marched onto the stable at the Jockey Club. From there they circled the track and marched past the grandstand which was well-filled for the Ranger Joe show.

Twenty-five dollar prizes were won by Potomac Fire Company of Westernport, the Frostburg Fire Company and the Ridgeley Fire Company. The Westernport fire-fighters won their prize for making the best appearance with marching men in the parade. Frostburg won its award for having the largest number of uniformed men marching. Ridgeley's prize was for the company making the best appearance with apparatus.

The following $15 prizes also were awarded: Fort Ashby, W. Va., company making second best appearance with marching men; Hyndman, Pa., company with second largest number of uniformed men; Barton, company making second best appearance with apparatus; LaVale, ladies auxiliary with the most in line; District 16, North Branch, best-appearing auxiliary.

Cromwell C. Zembower was the chief marshal. Judges were Virgil A. Parker, Cumberland fire chief; J. French VanMeter, Orphans Court judge; Harry K. Poling and Harry Skelly.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Byrnes, 92, To Whom Truman Paid Visit, Dies At Eckhart

Mrs. Elizabeth E. (Sullivan) Byrnes, 92, who was visited by Former President Harry S. Truman two months ago, died at noon yesterday at her home in Eckhart.

A native of County Cork, Ireland, Mrs. Byrnes came to the United States when she was a small child, and had lived in Eckhart since she was about 10 years old. She was married to J. J. Byrnes who, until his death in 1917, was a prominent merchant in Eckhart.

Mrs. Byrnes had been bedfast since March 29, when she fell and fractured her hip.

When Former President and Mrs. Truman stopped at Frostburg on a trip to Washington June 22, one of Mrs. Byrnes' sons, William, told Truman his mother had long been an admirer of the former Chief Executive. Byrnes invited the Trumans to stop at his mother's home before going on to Washington.

The Trumans spent about an hour at the Byrnes home, and the elderly woman later said it was one of the biggest thrills of her long lifetime.

Later, in an interview with Columnist Drew Pearson, Truman said his visit at Eckhart was the high point of his trip.

Surviving Mrs. Byrnes are six sons, Bernard Byrnes and Postmaster Michael J. Byrnes, both of Frostburg; John J. Byrnes, Leo S. Byrnes, William B. Byrnes and Gregory P. Byrnes, all at home; three daughters, Miss Eleanor Byrnes, at home; Mrs. Anna B. Brown, Eckhart, and Mrs. Margaret Shertzer, Frostburg; 17 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren. Another daughter, Mary, died several years ago.

Mrs. Byrnes was a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church, Frostburg, and of the church Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

The body is at the home, where it will remain until time of a requiem mass at 9:30 a. m. Thursday in St. Michael's Church, with burial in the church cemetery.

The family has requested that flowers be omitted.

No charges were filed against the driver.

In another accident yesterday, an Ohio woman was hospitalized after the car in which she was riding collided with a coal truck on U. S. Route 50 near the foot of Allegheny Front in Mineral County, W. Va.

Mrs. Mary Chalfont, 26, of Akron, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital at Keyser, W. Va., with severe bruises of the right arm, shoulder and body.

West Virginia State Police said the car, driven by Mrs. Chalfont's husband, Noel, 32, sideswiped a coal truck driven by Alston Leo Streets, 26, of Route 1, Elk Garden, W. Va., at 8:40 a. m. yesterday.

Streets, Chalfont and two passengers in the car escaped injury. Damage to the car was estimated at $600 to $700, and Chalfont was charged with failing to keep to the right.

Bus Passenger Seeks $30,000

A local woman who contends she was seriously injured when a Cumberland Transit Lines bus in which she was a passenger crashed into an automobile on Baltimore Street filed suit yesterday for $30,000 damages in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Leah G. VanMeter, through Attorney Simon F. Reilly, filed the suit against Guy M. Davis and Marie Elizabeth Davis, trading as Cumberland Transit Lines, and Mrs. Margaret M. Gehauf, who was driving the car struck by the bus.

The plaintiff in her declaration notes that she was a fare-paying passenger in a Cumberland Transit Lines bus which was travelling east on Baltimore Street near the B&O Railroad crossing when the accident occurred last September 23.

Mrs. VanMeter says she suffered a severe injury to her spine, resulting in numbness and weakness of both arms, inability to stoop, bend or lift. The plaintiff adds that she also injured her neck and head, has been unable to perform her household duties and has had heavy expenses for medical care and treatment.

Three other Holstein exhibitors among the 4-H group are Fred Lord of Vale Summit, Ronald Llewellyn of Midland and Robert

City To Study Problems On Rec Bond Issue

Ownership Of Fields Complicates Issues

The Mayor and Council will have to settle a number of important questions, some of them regarding the policies of public recreation, in deciding how the $150,000 recreation bond issue is to be used.

City officials have included bonds, authorized by a referendum in 1947, in three issues totaling $850,000 to be sold in the near future.

The long delayed decision resulted from the request of the City Recreation Board for the inclusion of $10,000 in the Recreation Budget for needed improvements to playgrounds here.

Will Sell Bonds Faced with increases which were beyond their control but which would raise the tax rate nine cents, city officials decided to sell the issue as the only practical solution to leveling off the tax increase.

Last Friday, when the budget was shaped up in its final form, officials reported the Recreation Board wanted the $10,000 returned to the budget, and $58,000 of needed capital expenditures spread over a five year period, thus keeping the bond issue intact for a major project.

Both of Cumberland's recreation directors have favored such a plan. Edmund F. Hoey, who organized the department, wanted the money used for a recreation center in the city.

Favors Small Centers Robert E. Pence, present director, has favored the use of the funds for the acquisition of a large tract of land which could be developed into a first class ball park and recreation center.

Mayor Roy W. Eves was spokesman for opponents to that idea. He pointed out he was not enthusiastic about a major play center.

The present move, he said, is toward neighborhood playgrounds. Many of the areas calling for playgrounds, he said, do not necessarily want centers with paid supervisors, but only a place for their children to play in safety.

Some work has already been done toward this idea, according to Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner, who said city forces have cleared off several areas when property owners agreed to use of vacant lots as neighborhood play centers.

One of the questions which will be raised is the use of funds from the bond issue to improve grounds which do not belong to the city.

At present, the city operates 16 play centers. Five of them are owned by the city, nine by the school board and one by the county.

City Comes First Mayor Eves said the city owned fields are in a "deplorable" condition and should be rehabilitated.

Reporting on the use of bond funds for the play centers, Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, said no question would be raised on movable equipment and that blacktopping could probably be included.

Improvements totaling about $58,000 have been recommended by the City Recreation Board.

City owned fields, the mayor insists, must be brought up to standard first.

"Let's fix our fields up and then ask the School Board to fix theirs up," Mayor Eves declared.

He pointed out that the fields are used by school children during vacations.

It was also suggested that if school fields are to be improved by the city, the school board might be contacted as to the possibility of leases.

May Stop Brucellosis Cattle Payments In State Of Maryland

Federal indemnity payment for cattle slaughtered for Brucellosis will not be paid for Maryland livestock under a new plan forwarded by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Dr. A. L. Brueckner, director of state livestock sanitary service, explained that Secretary Benson has recommended no payment for these cattle if they are not signed under Plan A of Brucellosis control.

Plan A requires all animals in the county be tested for Brucellosis and that reactors must be slaughtered. No Maryland counties meet this requirement, he added.

Dr. Brueckner requests that objections to the recommendations, not yet adopted, be filed with Dr. B. T. Simms, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Mediators Enter Phone Negotiations

Federal mediators sat down with union and company representatives yesterday in Baltimore to help push them toward contract agreements which would prevent threatened strikes by Maryland telephone workers.

After the sessions, negotiators refused to comment on whether they had made any progress. They said further talks would be held today.

Votes authorizing walkouts have been reported by both the independent union bargaining on behalf of 3,800 switchboard operators and the CIO Communications Workers of America, bargaining agent for 34,000 installations, maintenance and clerical workers.

The CIO-CWA contract with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company expired July 28, the agreement covering the operators July 26. Both unions have been working under the old agreements during negotiations, but the extension for the operators expires at midnight tonight.

Mrs. Margaret Weiss, head of the operators' union, said last week a strike at that time was "quite possible."

The operators' representatives were said to have pressed for a reduction of the $14.50 differential in scale for various company offices throughout the state. The company was understood to have offered a $150-a-week general raise.

CIO-CWA representative J. L. Monaghan said his union had asked for $2-$3 increases plus fringe benefits and had been offered $1-$2.

Current scales were given as $40-$57 for operators, $39-$68.50 for clerical workers and $43.50-$57.50 for installation and repair workers.

Henry W. Beecher Spoke At First Fair 75 Years Ago

Although the Cumberland Fair as such, dates only from 1918, there have been agricultural expositions here at least for the past 75 years.

Proof that there was a fair here in 1878—75 years ago—is found on a framed poster in the office of the Cumberland Fair Association under the grandstand at Fairgo.

This poster advertised the first annual fair of the Agricultural and Mechanical Society of Western Maryland which was held in Cumberland October 22, 23, 24 and 25, 1878.

And far from featuring today's vaudeville-type entertainment, that early fair offered the "celebrated orator," Rev. H. W. Beecher, who delivered an address at the exposition on October 23, 1878. Undoubtedly this was the famed 19th-century preacher, Henry Ward Beecher, whose sister wrote the anti-slavery book, Uncle Tom's

The prisoners were booked as Ralph E. Bennett, 324 Bedford Street, and James Almond and George Powell, both of Baltimore. Officer Donald H. Smith arrested the trio at a North Centre Street restaurant at 3:50 a. m. yesterday and ordered them held for investigation.

Police said a description fitting one of the men was given police by a citizen who saw three men running away from a car which had just been looted on high Bedford Street early yesterday.

Later, Smith, who was working the Baltimore Street beat, learned that three men, one of them answering the description, had been seen walking along a downtown street.

He went to the restaurant and arrested the trio. Later, he said, they admitted to Detective Leo E. P. Law that they had stolen a car to come here from Baltimore.

They abandoned the car later and stole another. In all, seven cars were stolen or ransacked, according to police. Officers said they also learned Almond is absent without leave from his duty station in the Navy.

FCC Releases TV Station Priority List

Cumberland Shown Awaiting Hearing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today made public a city-priority list designed to guide the order in which it will hold future hearings on competing television applications.

The FCC, however, appeared to have been caught in a bit of its own procedure which apparently rendered the priority list meaningless in some cases—at least for the present.

Complications arise from the fact that contestants in some cities far down in the new list already have received written notices that
